Thank you for purchasing The Daryl F. Gates’ Police Quest® Collection: The Four Most Wanted™.

In this Police Quest Collection you will encounter the same challenges that law enforcement officers face everyday. Jim Walls, California Highway Patrol, Retired, and I worked hard to design these Police Quest games to provide a realistic, inside look at the life of a cop. With The Four Most Wanted you will experience real police work just like we did.

This collection includes not only every Police Quest Game to date - Police Quest 1 VGA, 2, 3 & 4 (my next Game “Police Quest: SWAT” is due out in the Fall of 1995). It also includes a preview of Police Quest SWAT, a video interview where I answer questions submitted by Police Quest Fans, a never-before-seen “Making Of Police Quest” video, and, because all cops need hints now and then, we have included all of the Official Sierra Hint Book Tips. Plus much more!

When you play the games in this Collection, please remember that you are looking at the evolution of computer entertainment software. While the early games may lack some modern day technological flair, they have a unique quality all their own. I hope that you will enjoy them in the same nostalgic spirit as you would a classic black and white film. And, remember, they are still as real as you can get - without wearing a badge!

Law enforcement is one of the most difficult, challenging, invigorating and rewarding professions that anyone can pursue. I am proud to have served my fellow citizens for more than 40 years, experiencing all of the dangers, joys and heartbreaks that come with being a police officer. And, I offer the greatest of praise and admiration for all of my fellow men and women in uniform who put their lives on the line everyday.

I dedicate this Collection to them.

Please enjoy The Daryl F. Gates’ Police Quest Collection: The Four Most Wanted.

Sincerely,

Daryl F. Gates

Parser vs. Point-and-Click Interfaces & Save & Restore:

A Parser Interface is found in Police Quest 2.

With a Parser Interface the player types instructions at the cursor on the screen. While playing Police Quest 2, the Parser Interface Cursor appears as you begin typing.

If, for example, while playing the game, you want to open a desk drawer, at the Parser Interface Cursor you simply type OPEN DRAWER.

If the Parser Interface recognizes the words, the action will be completed and you are ready to proceed with another Parser command.

If the Parser Interface does not recognize the words, you will get a message asking you to try another word or combination of words - such as UNLOCK DRAWER or OPEN DESK DRAWER.

With the Parser Interface, try many different combinations of words and see what results. You never know what you’ll discover. But remember - just like real police work, you live and die by your quick wits and smart decisions. That's why we have the SAVE and RESTORE features. Remember to SAVE often (like whenever you make a new discovery). Saving often will help you avoid dead-ends, and RESTORE will let you return to the place that you may have made a poor decision.

The Point-and-Click Interface uses an Icon Bar that is either at the top or bottom of the screen.

The Icon Bar contains several Graphical Icons that can be selected to execute the command choices available to you.

To open the Icon Bar, move the cursor all the way to the top or bottom of the screen. In Police Quest 1, VGA and in Police Quest 3, move the cursor all the way to the top of the screen. In Police Quest 4, move the cursor to the bottom. This will reveal the Icons that are available to you. These Icons may vary from game to game. If you are unsure of the Icon's purpose, click the HELP symbol (the Question Mark) then click on the Icon in question.

Keyboards, Mice & Joysticks

Using a Keyboard (Police Quest 1 VGA, 2 & 3):

- To position the on-screen cursor or move your game character using a keyboard, press a direction key or the numeric keypad.
- To stop your character, press the same direction key again, or press 5.
- To execute a command, type it and press enter.
- Access the menu bar by pressing [Esc]. Use the arrow keys to move through the different menu selections, then press [Enter] to choose one.

Using a Mouse (Police Quest 1 VGA, 3 & 4):

- To activate the Icon Bar, move the cursor to the top of the screen.
- To position the on-screen cursor, move the mouse to the desired position.
- To move your character, position the WALK icon at the desired screen location and click the mouse button.
- To execute a command, click the left mouse button.
- Try the right and center buttons too. They help you change cursors.

Using a Joystick:

- To position the on-screen cursor using a joystick, move the stick in the desired direction.
- To execute a command, press the fire button.

SO REAL IT’S USED AS A POLICE TRAINING TOOL

“Police Quest is a serious training tool. It does not play a part in successfully completing the program. The simulation is based on skill and knowledge. The depth of training is enormous.”
—Law and Order Magazine

High-stakes poker. Your cover is at risk. Can you successfully portray the criminal element and capture the Death Angel?
When Police Quest 1: In Pursuit of the Death Angel was first released in 1987, it was heralded as an incredibly accurate simulation of real-world police action. Designed by a former police officer and praised by the law enforcement community, Police Quest 1 brought a gritty realism to computer gaming. Based on sound police procedures, the game is so authentic it's been used as a training tool by law enforcement agencies across the country. The good news for gamers is that Sierra On-Line has recently re-released this classic so you can enjoy it with all the latest technological bells and whistles.

The original edition of Police Quest 1 garnered rave reviews for its blend of police procedure and action. The new edition, published in the summer of 1992, replaces the cartoon feel of the original version with superb, full-color VGA graphics and video-captured human actors for life-like action sequences. It also has a hot stereo soundtrack, so you can throw out the mean streets of today's headlines with music card compatible, digitized voices and sound effects.

The old, typed commands have been replaced by a more user-friendly icon interface. Icons are also used to represent the objects and tools you carry with you during your shift. You activate icons by selecting them, then clicking on the object where you want to take action. For example, in the new edition, you don't have to type "handcuff suspect." You simply select the handcuff icon and then click on a suspect to cuff him.

Another nice feature of the game is that luck plays almost no part in its outcome. Your success depends solely on your skill and knowledge. You solve cases and fight crime while learning (and following) correct police procedure. Although you can complete the program with a less-than-perfect score, you'll earn more points for using correct law enforcement techniques.

Bad boys, what you gonna do?
You start the game in the station hallway in the persona of Sonny Bonds. The shift is about to begin, and you have to get your equipment and attend the shift briefing. You'll find the copy of the Lytton Police Gazette that's included in the game particularly helpful in getting off on the right foot. Every rookie should read it cover-to-cover.

You'll have several tours as a patrolman to hone your police skills. As you cruise the streets in your black-and-white, you'll experience real-life law enforcement situations and have to make decisions under the pressure of action in the field as well as deal with the routine of police life: handling our tickets, attending briefings, and discovering your best efforts tangled in the red tape of the judicial system. You'll meet characters from all walks of life, from high rollers to ordinary folks to the dregs of society. It's as close to being a real cop as you can get.

As you patrol, you'll soon learn Lytton has a growing problem: a major criminal, dubbed by the press as "The Death Angel," is creating havoc in the community. His drug trafficking, robbery, and murder have made the streets unsafe, in an escalating crime wave. However, before you can track
Real Life Revised

Police Quest: Too Real for Comfort?
The original Police Quest, created by designer and ex-policeman Jim Walls, was widely praised for its realistic look at the life of a police officer. Game players were expected to follow police procedures down to the finest detail. The story was dramatic, but the primitive graphics and memory restrictions kept the game from being as emotionally rich as it possibly could have been.

The new Police Quest lives up to that promise. You will experience the everyday responsibilities and risks of being a police officer, plus the friendships, the laughter, the fears, and the sorrows.

You won't just be playing Sonny Bonds. You'll become Sonny Bonds.

Real Life Captured
Because the art in the original Police Quest was so much more primitive than that of the original Quest for Glory, the difference in the new Police Quest's art is all the more stunning. Characters are video captured live actors. Not only does their dialog express their feelings— their faces do too.

"The characters are very three dimensional, both visually and emotionally," said Police Quest producer Tammy Dargan. "It was our intention to create a 'real-life' simulation, to explore the feelings that are part of the police experience."

You'll laugh at the pranks of an unknown 'Grimelin', feel the pain of a father whose daughter is in danger, and look into the eyes of a cold-blooded killer. When these incredibly real characters are set against the new, gritty, realistic hand-painted backgrounds, the Police Quest gaming experience becomes absolutely intense.

Text Times Three
There is approximately three times as much text in the new Police Quest as there was in the original. That means three times as many text messages, and three times as much conversation.

Listen to everything you hear, but remember, a policeman's sources are not always one hundred percent reliable. You'll have to use both your training and your gut instincts when faced with a sudden 'situation'.

A Little Night Music
Police Quest now sports a new, exciting stereo soundtrack. Every situation you'll encounter has its own theme music. From the juke box in a biker bar to the bluesy backbeat accompanying a dancer, from the thrill of a car chase to the agonizing suspense of an undercover sting, the music in Police Quest will inspire and delight you.

Procedure and Pathos
When you play the new Police Quest, you won't miss anything from the old game. It's still the most realistic 'police simulator' on the market. But this time around, your experience will be complete.

"Watching cops on television becomes a very impersonal thing," said Police Quest creative consultant Scott Murphy. "You see them, and you expect them to do those things, to put their lives on the line, but you seldom think about the emotional toll it's taking on them. Our vision was to give the player the chance to really feel and experience what the average policeman has to deal with every day."

It's an experience you won't soon forget.
him down and clean up the town, you'll have to help Sonny sharpen his detective skills. If you make a good cop, you may be asked to "go undercover" in an assignment to infiltrate the Death Angel's gang and bring the racketeer to justice. If you want a more. The nature of gaming is such that players actually "experience" the various field situations. Since players decide what actions to take and suffer the consequences of their decisions as the story evolves, the lessons learned make a more lasting impression than if they'd just passively watched a typical training film.

conviction, however, you'll have to follow true-to-life police procedures. As in real life, if you, you'll find yourself in real trouble.

And you can't just shoot first and ask questions later — unless you want early retirement. You'll have to do things "by the book" to keep the criminals behind bars.

When you write-up a pre-empt, for example, make sure you note the right Penal Code or Vehicle Code violation number. And don't forget to radio for a 10-29 or 10-35 or you may end up with an 11-99 on your hands. One careless mistake, and you could make an arrest that won't hold up in court or let a dangerous suspect get the upper hand — with fatal results.

Be careful out there

With its emphasis on authenticity, it's not surprising Police Quest 1 is a favorite among law enforcement professionals. Since its initial release, this "an little computer game" has proven to be a practical, effective training tool officers enjoy using. It safely demonstrates to rookies the consequences of failing to observe proper procedures and can serve as a valuable refresher course for experienced officers.

The game covers such topics as how to handle felony and routine traffic stops, intoxicated drivers, handcuffing, felony arrests, physical confrontation and the use of deadly force, radio transmissions, and Police Quest 1: In Pursuit of the Death Angel is an intense, mature adventure game that introduces you to the spine-tingling world of real-life police action. Yes, it's a game — but with its unflinching situations and real-life drama, it isn't fantasy.

GOING BY THE BOOK

To score well and put the bad guys behind bars in the Police Quest games, you've got to "go by the book." The best book of by, in our book, is the Police Quest Casebook by Peter Scisco (Osborne/McGraw Hill, $19.95). This handy reference is a comprehensive guide to all three games in the series: Police Quest 1 — In Pursuit of the Death Angel (both the new and the classic editions), Police Quest 2 — The Vengeance, and Police Quest 3 — The Kindred. Mr. Scisco has written complete "walk-thrus" of each game, including specific tips and the point values for various actions.

If you don't want to be spoon-fed solutions, the Casebook also contains several valuable tools to help you solve the game on your own, including:

• Maps of the Lytton Police Station, the Hotel Delphoria, the Lytton City Jail, Cotton Cove, Lytton Airport, Lytton General Hospital, the Oak Tree Mall, and the Steelton Sewer.

• A "mug book" that profiles thirty-nine characters you'll meet in the Police Quest series, from Jesse Baines to Marie Wilkins.

• Guidance on real police procedures and policies such as the Ten-Step Trail of Evidence, Observation and Description, and a glossary of terms and techniques.

• A directory and descriptions of on-line information services that offer topics related to law enforcement and legal prosecution.

The Police Quest Casebook really helps you get the most out of the games. It's full of practical information on what to do when and gives you invaluable advice on how to perform professionally and decisively for a successful tour of duty. Ask for it at your local bookstore.
Primary Objective: Stopping Lytton’s Influx of Drugs

by Sergeant Dooley

Halting Lytton’s drug traffic has become the primary objective of this department. Although marijuana’s been a nuisance for many years, we’re seeing an increasing influx of harder drugs - cocaine, crack, heroin. Even worse, more drugs are being dealt in public places, such as Cotton Cove and the mall. There’s also been an increase in drug-related deaths, prostitution, and murders. Four small-time drug dealers were murdered in the past month alone.

Why? We suspect the arrival of one big-time dealer, going under the street-name of “The Death Angel,” is at the heart of the matter. At this time, we don’t know who this slug is or what rock he crawled out from under, but it’s just a matter of time before he’ll slip up. And when he makes a mistake, we’ll nail him.

Detectives Anglin and Smith were already close on his trail last month when they seized over 400 four-foot marijuana plants, six kilograms of cocaine, and enough heroin, LSD, and crack cocaine to keep all of Lytton’s citizens high for a year. It’s the largest single drug bust this department has ever made, and involved a two-week investigation with the Interagency Narcotics Enforcement Team, Stoolton police, the state’s Bureau of Narcotics Enforcement and the Lytton County Task Force. At an estimated street value in the neighborhood of $2 million dollars, it must have crippled his drug-dealing operations, at least for awhile.

Friendly Seniors’ Card Game Turned Brawl

Responding to a domestic dispute call, Officers Cobb and Johnson broke up a brawl involving four of Lytton’s senior citizens. The cause of the dispute? Does a full-house beat four-of-a-kind! Johnson said, “Apparently the game took a turn for the worst when one of the women suggested playing for money. After explaining the rank of hands (see Rank of Poker Hands), they began throwing blows. Silver wigs and false teeth went flying. It was like seeing your grandma in a fight—no one likes to see that!” Although no one was hurt, the officers had to shut the game down by confiscating poker chips, cards, and finally threatening arrests before the group calmed down.

Note: Seasoned veterans may not want to read the following article since they already possess the skills, training and experience to be top-notch Lytton Police Officers.

First day jitters. We’ve all been there. You begin your first day in the hallway of the station, when it suddenly dawns on you that along with your job comes tremendous responsibility; it can be overwhelming. Your life and the community’s safety are on the line. In fact, the pressure can be unbearable. Sometimes we feel if only someone would guide us through the first part of the day...

Here’s some tips and suggestions for you. Follow them and you’ll get off on the right foot your first day on the job.

First, you’ll need your policeman’s gear. Select the Eye cursor from the Icon Bar. Use the Eye cursor to explore your surroundings in the station to gather useful information. Be sure to look at the various objects and doorways in the station. When you find the doorway to the locker room, select the Walk cursor from the Icon Bar. To enter the locker room, use the Hand cursor on the locker room doorway.

Now that you’re in the locker room, use the Eye cursor to find your locker. Select the Hand cursor from the Icon Bar, and use it on your locker. A window will appear enabling you to select your locker combination. Select 269 to open it. Examine the contents of your locker with the Eye cursor. Use the Hand cursor to take each item in the locker, then on your locker door to close it.

Second, you’ll attend a briefing. Therefore, use the Walk cursor to leave the locker room and enter the briefing room. Find your pigeonhole using the Eye cursor, then use the Hand cursor to get its contents. You’ll take a note from your pigeonhole. You can use the Eye cursor on the note to read it. Do you see a newspaper? Use the Walk cursor to walk to the table in the lower right-hand corner. Use the Hand cursor to pick up the newspaper. Read it using the Eye cursor, and when you’re done, close it using the Hand cursor. Since a briefing will begin very soon, use the Walk cursor to find your seat. Use the Hand cursor to sit down.

When the briefing is over, it’s time to get in your patrol car and hit the streets. Use the Walk cursor to leave the briefing room and enter the hallway one more time. Your keys are hanging on a board on the wall. Use the Eye cursor to find them, then the Hand cursor to remove them.

You’ll also need a radio extender. You’ll find one on the table at the north end of the hall. Use the Hand cursor to pick it up, then exit the station using the Walk cursor.

Once you’re in the parking lot, perform a walk-around safety check of your vehicle using the Walk cursor. A successful inspection will include walking near all four wheels of the car. Once this is completed, you’re ready to hit the streets. Walk to the driver’s side door and use the Hand cursor to get in.

Cadet, you’re off to a good start. You can take it from here. Good luck with the rest of your career-Lytton’s counting on you!

Lytton P.D. Instrumental in New Substance Abuse Programs

As much as we hate to see it, more and more Lytton teens are being arrested for drug and alcohol-related reasons. But there is hope. A new city-funded program combines the talents and skills of Lytton General Hospital Specialists, Lytton Courthouse Staff, and our officers.

Contact Detectives Frank Williams or Laura Watts for more details.

Officer Watts stated, “Our new substance abuse program gives teen first-time offenders a good first step toward recovery. In exchange for community service hours, qualified young offenders receive outpatient treatment for abuse of alcohol, cocaine or other drugs, as well as an introduction to a 12-step program.”

Obscene Caller Impersonates Lytton Police Officer

Fifty-four-year-old Martha Baldwin called to inform us that she had received a lewd phone call. Thirty minutes later, she received a phone call from a phony “Officer Simpson” of the Lytton P.D. He apparently told her we had tapped her phone and asked her to play along should the man call back again, which immediately happened.

After listening to several minutes of obscenities, she hung up. She called us again only to learn that there is no “Officer Simpson.” Sergeant Dooley has taken this very serious matter up with the phone company and they will be on the alert should any other reports come in.

Five Teens Made Home in Lytton Sewer

An alarmingly high number of teenagers in the United States are becoming homeless. Last year alone, over one million teenagers were left homeless as a result of either running away from or being thrown out of their homes. It was only a matter of time before some were bound to turn up in Lytton.

While on a recent stake-out near Lytton City Park, Officer Bonds and his partner discovered the teens. Officer Bonds commented, “This is a very sad situation. We noticed someone removing the manhole cover in the street—that’s when we found them. It was a complete accident.” Three boys and two girls were turned over to youth authorities last Friday.

Voodoo?

Officers Bonds and Cobb transported a woman in her middle 40’s to the Lytton General Psychiatric Ward after responding to a call that the woman had been verbally harassing her neighbors. Officer Bonds stated, “The neighbor claimed this woman had been cursing at them and then performed some kind of voodoo ritual outside their apartment. She apparently threw a dead bird and a painted stone onto their porch. Doctors still have her under observation.”

Local Businessman Accused of Shoplifting

John Gardener, prominent storeowner, demanded an apology last week from a discount department store in the Oak Tree Mall he said arrested him, handcuffed him, and accused him of switching price tags on a $25 tie. The storeowner also stated that he’d previously purchased two similar ties and the price on each was also $25.

Wondering About the Talking Bear?

It’s true. The once proud and majestic talking bear statue in front of Lytton’s Police Academy has been stolen. Always a topic of conversation, all that remains of the regal bear are its paws and button-operated speaker. Police Commissioner Hackman said, “We’re going to miss that bear!” The insurance company has paid for a replacement bear to be installed sometime in the near future.

Child Safety Program a Success

Hundreds of Lytton’s caring young parents attended last Saturday’s free public awareness seminar entitled, “Your Child’s Safety Comes First.” A special Task Force in cooperation with our department, gave the lectures on child safety consciousness.

Carol Kartel, spokesman for the Task Force, commented, “We teach parents basic safety techniques, such as prevention-keeping dangers at a distance, and education-giving parents valuable advice and assistance to help them teach their children how to avoid falling victim to molesters, muggers, kidnappers, drug dealers, and other aggressive criminals. We also encourage parents to create and make use of community projects, such as Child Safety Patrols and Neighborhood Watch Programs, and answer any questions they might have.”
Manual Update: Special Operating Procedures

New Cadets—please take a few moments to familiarize yourselves with these important departmental standards (reprinted from Official Lytton P.D. Indocentrization Guide). Compliance with these procedures is mandatory for all Lytton Police Officers.

Routing Traffic Stop Procedures
1. When a violation has been witnessed, stop the violator as quickly as possible to minimize the hazard of high-speed driving and needless accidents.

Felony Traffic Stop Procedures
1. You must have good reason to believe a felony has been committed.
2. Call radio dispatch for back-up unit.
3. Maintain radio contact with back-up unit.
4. Bring the suspect’s vehicle to a complete stop. Maintain cover until the suspect is under control.
5. Command suspect to “halt” or “stop.” Proceed to command suspect to lie face down on the ground.
6. Handcuff and search suspect.
7. Read suspect his rights.

Felony Arrest Procedures
1. Before proceeding with arrest, your back-up unit must be staked out in close proximity.
2. Maintain radio contact with your back-up unit.
3. Observe the crime.
4. Have weapon drawn at the ready.
5. Identify yourself as a police officer to the suspect.
6. Command suspect to keep his hands over his head. If at any time the suspect drops his hands, prepare to take defensive action.
   a. If the suspect flees, follow the suspect on foot. Maintain radio contact if possible.
   b. If the suspect takes aggressive action (i.e. reaching for weapon, charging you), use necessary defensive actions.
7. When it is safe, approach the suspect. Handcuff the suspect.
   Note: Many suspects will wait until close contact with the officer has been established before taking aggressive action. Always be prepared to defend yourself against any hostile behavior.
8. Search the suspect.
9. Read suspect his rights.
10. Transport suspect to jail.

Intoxicated Driver Procedures
1. Detect possible intoxication by observing erratic driving.
2. After stopping the suspect, determine his condition by:
   a. Detecting the odor of alcoholic beverage.
   b. Administering a Field Sobriety Test.

Vehicle Walk-Around Safety Procedures
1. Be responsible for the vehicle and be held accountable for the equipment assigned to the vehicle.
2. Conduct a daily inspection before each tour of duty to insure that the vehicle is safe, properly equipped and in serviceable condition. (Special attention shall be given to checking all four wheels, steering, and brake system.)
Expansion to Highway 41 Completed

While Lytton has experienced warp-speed growth over the last three years, expansion of the city's highway has trudged along at the pace of a snail crawling through wet concrete. The newly constructed freeway now extends all the way to Brock Drive and Palm, saving time for cross-town commutes. (Replace your standard issue LPD-29 map with the new map below.)

Five Fatal Errors That Kill Lawmen

1. Your Attitude
   If you fail to keep your mind on the job while on patrol or you carry problems from home into the field, you will start to make errors. It can cost you or other officers their lives.

2. Tombstone Courage
   No one doubts that you are brave. But in any situation where time allows, wait for the backup.

3. Not Enough Rest
   To do your job you must be alert. Being sleepy or asleep on the job is not only against regulations but will endanger the community and all your fellow officers.

4. Taking a Bad Position
   Never let anyone you are about to question or stop position themselves between you and your vehicle. There is no such thing as a routine call or stop.

5. Danger signs
   As a law officer you will begin to recognize unusual movements, strange cars, etc. These are warning signs that should alert you to watch your step and approach with caution. Know your beat, your community and watch for what is "out of place."

Jason Taselli
WELCOME TO HOMICIDE

The Lytton Police Department is responsible for protecting the people and property of this community. As a member of the Lytton Police Department, the officer assumes a responsibility to his community and country. The officer must be worthy to serve by the side of those men, who, throughout Lytton’s history, have upheld the law and provided for a peaceful and welcome atmosphere.

Detectives and special agents of the Lytton Police Department are plainclothes investigators who gather facts and collect evidence for criminal cases. They conduct interviews, examine records, observe the activities of suspects, and participate in raids or arrests.

Because police protection must be provided around the clock, homicide officers may be required to work weekends, holidays and nights. Homicide detectives are subject to call any time their services are needed and may work overtime, particularly during criminal investigations. The job may also require extensive travel.

The injury rate among homicide detectives is higher than in many other police divisions and reflects the risks taken in pursuing known felons, escaped convicts, and other public offenders.

Congratulations on becoming a member of Lytton Police Department’s Homicide Division.

Sincerely,

Eric “Click” Heitman

HOMICIDE OFFICER’S GUIDE

AN OVERVIEW

A Sierra 3-D Animated Adventure Game, simply stated, is an interactive movie where you become the main character. In this game, the main character is Sonny Bonds, a police officer recently promoted to homicide division in the fictional town of Lytton.

Each 3-D Animated Adventure Game has a main goal, and yours in Police Quest II is to locate and capture escaped convicted Jessie Bains (the “Death Angel”) and put him permanently behind bars. You have just been promoted, so there are many new procedures to learn before you can successfully track down Bains. It is important that you understand official police regulations, homicide procedure, as well as working knowledge of vehicle and traffic code before you hit the streets.

TIPS FOR NEW ADVENTURE PLAYERS
Note: If you have played an animated adventure before, this section can be skipped.

1. PATROLLING THE STREETS
Basic instructions on how to interact with this game are included on the reference card enclosed. For those who are not sure of what to do, there is a WALK THRU included at the end of this manual.

2. WATCH YOUR BEHIND
Due to the dangerous nature of this game, you will want to save your game often. Save your game after you have made important progress, and save your game when you encounter a potentially dangerous situation.

3. THOROUGHLY EXAMINE YOUR SURROUNDINGS
When you enter a room, type LOOK AT THE ROOM. When you open a box, type LOOK IN THE BOX. When you wish to talk to a man, type TALK TO THE MAN. The descriptions and close-ups offered may provide valuable clues.

4. PLAY WITH A PARTNER
Police work isn’t easy. You may find it helpful to go through Police Quest with a friend. Different people come up with different ways to interpret clues. Besides, police officers often work in pairs.
5. CAUGHT SPEECHLESS?

Police Quest understands a wide variety of verbs such as:

6. BE ON THE LOOKOUT
There's much more to a 3-D Animated Adventure Game than meets the eye. Try any action you can think of—even the unthinkable. No one ever got the death penalty from playing computer games (at least no one who will talk). If you do run into trouble, you can always use the RESTORE GAME function to return to a previously saved game.

7. FEELING CORNERED? TRAPPED?
If you've tried every possible trick in the book and still can't get anywhere, don't panic. Even the best cops around sometimes get caught dead in their tracks.

As Keane delves deeper into the case, he uncovers a web of corruption and deceit that threatens to destroy everything he holds dear.

The game is set in the fictional city of Westmore, where players will explore various locations, interact with a cast of characters, and solve puzzles to advance the story. The dialogue is rich and varied, with a number of different outcomes depending on the player's choices.

The Magic of Video Capture.

The Video Capture process is in action, live from the set of Police Quest 3. The heroes and villains are Sierra employees. The Video Capture to Animation process is complicated and involved, and when you see the resulting animation — WOW!
SIERRA'S VIDEO STUDIO IS located up the hill from Sierra, hidden in a little Warren of offices. You'd never guess the people inside are making game magic.

From the shocking realism of Police Quest 3 to the warped humor of Space Quest IV, Sierra is using the very latest technology in video-captured imaging to make the best games possible. Where the technology doesn't exist, they create it.

HOW IT WORKS

First, the art director, producer, and designer decide what the character should look like. Then it's a matter of casting. With almost 400 employees to choose from, it's usually not hard.

The level of detail needed in the actor's costume depends on the type of game. For Laura Bow II, which will have a very realistic look, the actors wear authentic period costumes. Police Quest 3 has very little artistic enhancement, so careful customizing is required.

For Quest for Glory III, the characters are artistically enhanced to a higher degree, so an approximation of the costume is all that's needed.

The lighting must be carefully set, just like in a movie, same time, digitized into the computer. The tape is kept as a backup and a piece of proprietary software created by Sierra called Movie 256 turns the video feed into individual animation cells.

Movie 256 is capable of capturing 16 cells at a time, or five seconds of film time. That means many, many separate loops of action must be captured. Then the loops are strung together in the computer using a view editor. It's a lot of work, but if you've seen the games, you know it's worth it.

The video people hinted that Movie 256 will soon be capable of capturing 32 frames at a time. That means we could animate twice as fast, allowing us to produce more complex and realistic animation. Our technology is always improving.

Once the taping is done, the digitized images are turned over to the artists. The cells created by Movie 256 are used as a template to enhance, colorize, or alter the image in whatever way is necessary to fit the overall look of the game. Sometimes the characters look very much like the actors who played them, but sometimes their own mothers wouldn't recognize them. If you tour Sierra, look around. You just might see a familiar face.

When the video-captured actor has been turned into a walking, talking, fully developed Sierra character, he or she is placed against a background, and game graphics are born.

The video-capture process provides the highest quality character animation in computer adventure game interaction. It's also the most exciting... for you.
Then he came to an intersection and stood on the brakes. I was right behind him, but he was out of his car waving a .357 magnum before I could get out of my seatbelt. He blew my windshield out, then started running toward my car to finish me off. Just then his car started rolling, and that distracted him. He ran back to try to stop it, and that gave me time to get out of my car.

We exchanged gunfire, and I hit him, though I didn't know it at the time. He ran behind a fence and I heard another shot, which turned out to be him trying to shoot the lock off the fence. That was his last round, and since he wasn't successful in shooting the lock off, he went over the top. Later we found blood on top of the fence — that's how I knew I'd shot him. He ran a few blocks to a nearby shopping center, used his gun to commandeer another car and got away. The next day he checked into a hospital with a 'self-inflicted' gunshot wound.

From the time I called in the pursuit till backup arrived was only 40 seconds. It felt like a lifetime. Everything was in slow motion. I knew during those few seconds that I was going to die.

The only thing I worried about was, was I going to feel that bullet going through my brain? After the shoot-out, I felt O.K. After any kind of incident like that, you always have to see a psychologist, to see if you're all right to go back to work. The psychologist said I was fine, so I went back to work. I was able to pick the suspect out of a 12 man photo lineup. I'll never forget his face, even now.

While the suspect was awaiting his preliminary hearing, he escaped. They caught him right away the other time. He was tried on all of them and sentenced to 23 years in Folsom Prison.

While he was awaiting transportation to Folsom, he told another prisoner that he was going to appeal all counts and if he got a retrial he was going to escape again and go after me. The guy got a retrial, came back, and sure enough he escaped. For a while I didn't go anywhere without my gun. He was gone ten years before they caught him in Florida.

Jim Walls has been designing hit games like Sierra since his groundbreaking Police Quest, 1987. His games have always been outstanding in terms of hard-edge realism in a market dominated by fantasy. I talked to Jim about his experiences and the real-life events that inspired the while he was working on his latest accomplishment, Police Quest 3, due to be released in late 1987.
A game based entirely on reality.

Q: We know you spent 15 years in law enforcement, but other than that, very little is known about you.
A: That's the way I like it (laughs). I'm a private kind of a guy. I keep to myself pretty much — I guess I was born that way.

Q: What else? All like all kinds of sports, outdoor activities like hunting and fishing and diving, I've got five children, 4 of whom are grown up, and one at home who's 17. I'd describe myself as a middle-of-the-road kind of guy. I'm the kind of person who likes to make up my own mind about things, instead of letting other people decide for me. That's gotten me in a lot of trouble (laughs) It's true.

Q: We know you worked in other professions before you went into police work. What was it about law enforcement that made you want to make that your career?
A: I was an officer for 7 years before I joined the CHP (California Highway Patrol). Before that, I had a lot of different kinds of jobs - sort of a jack-of-all-trades. While I was working as an officer, I met a guy who was going to the CHP Academy, and we got to talking about it, and he was so enthusiastic that I got interested. I decided that was what I wanted to do with my life. I was the third oldest in my academy class. The academy was fun, but it was tough. The first seven weeks is tougher than any boot camp, but it pays off. The CHP is one of the best-trained law enforcement agencies in the world.

Q: You wrote Police Quest: While you were recovering from the aftereffects of a very traumatic experience — a shootout with an armed suspect. How did the shootout and the events that followed it change your life?
A: Well, at first it didn't. After about a year, it started affecting me. I started having anxiety attacks — what they call a delayed traumatic response. It was making it difficult for me to do my job. Being that close to death can really shake you up. I went on leave of absence for a year, then retired.

Q: While you were on leave, Ken Williams asked you if you could translate your experience into a game. Did it help, being able to get the experience outside of yourself, to talk about it?
A: Being busy, working — that was the biggest help. When I was on leave, all I could do was sit around and think about it, so keeping busy helped me a lot.

Q: Do you feel you were able to do justice to the subject of modern police work in a computer game?
A: I think so, in a limited way. In the first game you had to follow strict police procedure to get through the game. I put as much in there as I could, to make it realistic. The authenticity of it was fairly limited at that time. Of course, that's gotten increasingly better with each game.

Q: Police Quest was a big hit, even with police departments. Was it this authenticity that made it so popular?
A: Well, Police Quest was the first of its kind — a game based entirely on reality. At that time, just about every game around was a fantasy of some sort. I think the authenticity and the feeling of reality had a lot to do with the game's success.

Q: A couple of years ago, you took a vacation from police-based games, and did a high tech thriller. What made you decide to do a game like Codename: Iceman?
A: Well, I'd already done two games based on my experiences in law enforcement; police games were more or less right down my alley, so it's pretty easy for me to write a cop story. What I wanted was to see if I could do something completely different.

Q: So looking back, what do you think about the experience?
A: I liked the challenge, but that submarine was a killer. I'll never put a submarine in another game (laughs). I didn't know anything about submarines to begin with, so I had to do a lot of research. I used a couple of consultants who had actually served on nuclear subs, and the Navy was a lot of help — they gave me access to a lot of information I needed. The story itself was easy, but the research was hard.

Q: What brought you back to the world of Sonny Bonds for Police Quest 3?
A: Because there are things I can do now, with this game, that I couldn't do with the others. This is a much more complex game than the first two. Because the technology keeps advancing, each game you do is better, more involved. The limitations on space and memory... are changing, so you can put more in each game. It makes the storytelling great. I think these games just keep getting better.

Q: We’ve seen some of the art from Police Quest 3. It has an entirely different look and feel from the two previous games, doesn’t it?

A: Oh yeah, completely different. The new parserless interface is one of the big differences. It means you have to find a different way of telling the story, rethink everything you used to know about designing a game. But this kind of interface puts you into the game the way a typed-in interface can’t. It gives you a more real feeling if you don’t have to worry about what you have to type. It’s more intense.

Q: Speaking of ‘intense’, there’s a lot of talk about Police Quest 3; that it’s the most realistic — not to mention the most brutal — game of the series. Do you feel that’s true?

A: Brutal? I guess there are brutal things in the game, but it’s just pointing out how the world is. These things are actually happening — those kinds of people are actually running around out there, even if we don’t want to think about it. It’s not like we’re coming out in favor of brutality — the game is very much against violence and crime, like the previous two games. The game is intense, its subject matter is realistic, and with the tools we have now, the high-resolution graphics, the moods that can be created with the music and sound — well, it just increases that realism, reinforces it. It’s not a game for the faint-hearted, I guess.

Q: What does the future hold for Jim Walls and the Police Quest series? What will you do to follow your own act?

A: I tried to leave the storyline of Police Quest 3 open for another installment. In fact, I’m kind of putting the pieces of Police Quest 4 together in my head right now. As for following my own act, I guess that’ll just happen if it happens. I’ll come up with something (laughs).

Q: Such as, maybe, Iceman 2?

A: Well, you just never know.

GUIDE FOR NEW CADETS

You're a cop.

Before you start your first day on the job, there are some things you should know about the road you've chosen. Someone once said that being a cop is ninety-five percent boredom. Routine is the foundation of police work - routine that can include anything from sitting under a bridge with a radar gun in your hand for sixteen hours to making a midnight trip to the emergency room with half a kid in the back of your car. It may not seem glamorous to rookies like you, but men who have been in the force know that "a cop's gotta do what a cop's gotta do."

What's the other five percent of being a cop? Try plunging down the steepest roller-coaster you can imagine at about a hundred and fifty miles per hour. At night. Except, there's nobody at the controls down below. You've got the controls. There's a lot of screaming people on the ride behind you, and you're the one steering. Now, the brakes go....

I know what you're thinking. You're thinking that ninety-five and five sound like pretty good percentages. You're thinking that you could manage being lucky five percent of the time. Trouble is, that's an average. On certain days, for certain cops, things can get MUCH worse.

But, that's why you joined, isn't it? The force needs you. Lytton needs you. And you can steer real good.

So what are you waiting for? Go out and DO IT.

WARNING

The next page is for "rookies" only. Experienced officers might want to avoid the first day briefing and strike out on their mission without undue assistance from headquarters.

Lytton Police Department
Performance Evaluation

Employee Name: Bonds, Sonny       Date: June 12, 1988

Period covering: June 1, 1987 - June 1, 1988

Employee Title: Narcotics Detective

During this period, Officer Bonds diligently and expertly tracked down a major source of drugs in the Lytton area. As a result, Bonds was directly responsible for the arrest and conviction of Jessie Baines, a.k.a. the "Death Angel", organizer and leader of Lytton's worst drug cartel. Baines was responsible for the murder of at least five known drug dealers that would not join his cartel, and was responsible for the infiltration of at least 500 kilograms of cocaine into the Lytton area. His removal from the streets was a significant triumph for local law enforcement.

Assess employee performance: Officer Bonds has continued to improve himself since his graduation from the Lytton Police Academy. He continues to educate himself on police and courtroom procedure as well as maintaining the familiarity with local industry and the community that is so vital to the investigation of local crime. His field experience is also exemplary and he has maintained maximum physical and weapon skills. With his superior performance in the Baines case this year, Officer Bonds has proven that he's one of the brightest, most capable young men working for the police force. The Baines case demonstrated Bonds' proficiency in investigative work, his ability to handle himself in highly dangerous situations, and his professionalism in dealing with the press and with the courtroom appearances that resulted from the case. The decision to promote him to Homicide Detective last year has proven to be a wise one.

Assess the employee's potential growth within this organization: I am recommending Officer Bonds be promoted to a Homicide Detective Grade 2 immediately. If his performance continues, he should be a candidate for a promotion to Sergeant sometime within...
Death Angel’s Reign of Terror Ends

Targeted Lovers Thwart Drug Lord’s Revenge

Lytton. Police report today that escaped drug lord Jessie Bains, a.k.a. “The Death Angel,” was killed while waging a war of terrorism on the two young lovers responsible for his incarceration. Bains escaped from the Lytton County Jail nearly two weeks ago. He’d been transferred to the local facility from the high-security state prison to await retrial. Instead of fleeing after his escape, Bains went after two old enemies, L.P.D. Homicide Detective Sonny Bonds and Bonds’ fiancee, Marie Wilkans.

The grudge was an old one. Bains was imprisoned in 1987 after his... drug cartel was infiltrated by Wilkans, a police "plant". Detective Bonds was the man in charge of the '87 Bains investigation and was looking for a reliable informant to plant into the drug cartel when he came across Wilkans in the County Jail. Wilkans had been arrested for first-offense solicitation.

Bonds and Wilkans had been high-school sweethearts who had lost track of each other - Bonds' path leading him into law-enforcement and Wilkans' to hard times. Bonds immediately chose Wilkans for the job and the police offered to drop all charges in return for Wilkan's cooperation in the Bains surveillance. Bonds and Wilkans worked together to gather incriminating evidence against Bains. It was that evidence that insured Bains' incarceration following his capture in a raid on the Hotel Delphoria.

But, unfortunately for Wilkans and Bonds, the case didn't end there. Bains vowed revenge on the day he was sentenced, telling the press "Lytton isn't through with me yet, or me with Lytton. Those who put me here will pay." Upon learning of Bains' escape, Bonds rushed to warn Wilkans, now employed as a waitress at Arnie's in downtown Lytton. He arrived to find that Bains had already been there and taken Wilkans hostage. Bains left a taunting message for Bonds, hoping to lure him into a trap and do away with both old foes.

The kidnapping led Bonds on an interstate chase. He tracked Bains to Steelton and discovered his hideout in the Steelton sewer control room. Bonds entered the room while Bains was out, found Wilkans, and freed her. According to Wilkans, Bains returned at that moment and a shoot-out between the two men ensued. Bains was fatally wounded and died instantly.

In the aftermath of the nightmare, Wilkans revealed something of her terror to reporters; "I was scared out of my mind - less for myself than for Sonny. I knew he would come for me and I knew Bains would be ready for him." A review board is currently conducting a routine investigation into the violent death of the man who had courted violence all his life - the man who called himself "The Death Angel".

In the fourth game in the popular Police Quest series, you play a Los Angeles Police Department detective who must investigate a series of murders. To make sure the game accurately portrays the procedures, events, and emotions of such an investigation, Sierra On-Line has called upon a man who has worked on some of the most notorious serial murder cases of our time: former LAPD Chief, Daryl F. Gates. Gates's career spans forty-three years in law enforcement, from rookie to head of the most effective police department in the country. He is arguably the most knowledgeable authority on law enforcement alive. In a recent interview for InterAction, he also proved to be thoughtful, candid, and gracious.

InterAction: Chief Gates, how and why did you become involved with Police Quest?

Gates: I was asked by Sierra On-Line to consider working on it. After meeting the Sierra staff and talking with them about Police Quest, I was intrigued. It sounded like something that would be a lot of fun, something brand new for me, and an opportunity to maybe say something important about law enforcement.

InterAction: You've written the public has to adopt a more realistic view of the police. What are some of the misunderstandings people have you'd like to touch on in the game?

Gates: Three come to mind. First, there's a feeling the police are in some sense foreign to our way of life. A point I think we need to make is that the police are a part of the people. Our police aren't military occupation... troops. They aren’t some national force as in other countries. They’re community-based organized, guided by the community, responsive to the community, existing for the specific purpose of protecting the community. However, since the police have the power to interact or take away an individual’s freedom to enforce the laws adopted by the community, people are understandably wary. It’s a paradox people have to get beyond. Second, we can try to correct some of the false impressions created by movies and TV shows, to give a more accurate picture of what the police really can and cannot do. And third, we can try to give people a better appreciation for what officers face on the job and encourage a willingness to support them.

InterAction: What exactly is it about the job you’d like to convey?

Gates: It’s a job that’s really fun, it really is. It’s a rewarding job. It’s exciting. It has all the ingredients that make you want to go to work everyday — but it has its downside, too. Stress is one of the downers. There’s hardly a day that doesn’t go by without your gut tightening up and the adrenaline flowing because of the unknown. You have to make split-second, life-and-death decisions in your own and be responsible for them. It’s a tremendous burden. Some officers can’t handle it. They become ill. Sometimes they have to retire. It’s a very, very difficult thing. Very difficult. Along with that is the difficult job of assessing the rightness and wrongness of the use of force. It’s hard for people reviewing an officer’s use of force to put themselves in his position at the time. Most of us have not seen much real violence, and people are really repulsed by it. In the Rodney King situation, for example, we’ve said officially that the officers had other alternatives. The sergeant should have used the swarm technique to take King into custody. I feel that my partner and I would’ve taken King on and probably never used a club. We would’ve wrestled him around and put the cuffs on him and that would’ve been all there was to it. But that kind of assessment, that Monday morning quarterbacking is difficult to do, even for professionals. For the public to do it, it’s really difficult.

InterAction: The protagonist in Police Quest 4 will be a detective rather than a patrolman. What are the most important qualities in a police detective?

Gates: The really skilled detective is someone who can use a “systems” approach to solve a crime. You have to look systematically at all the information you have before forming conclusions. And when one bit of information raises a question that calls for additional information, you have to seek out that information guided by the conclusion you make any judgments. Once you’ve got all your ducks in a row, you ask yourself, “Now, what does that tell me about this murder, the perpetrators, the suspects?” You have to put yourself into the head of the criminal. It’s a very difficult thing, but most detectives can do it. Sometimes, though, detectives get sidetracked and go off on a tangent. They get an idea or an intuitive thing. They think they’re right and go off on a wild goose chase.

InterAction: They try to prove their guess about what happened rather than trying to figure out what really happened?

Gates: That’s right. They go forward without really coming back and looking at all the information. I was a stickler for laying the evidence out in a comprehensive way so you could look at it. You have to look for patterns that develop. In cases like the Hillside Strangler, where you don’t have a suspect, it’s the only way to go. You can do it very easily on a computer. I think it’s part of the realism we can put into the game.

InterAction: What impact have computers had on police work?

Gates: Almost all information is computerized now and immediately available. Years ago crime report information was coded onto punch cards. When they looked for a suspect, they’d run the cards through IBM sorters looking for a match to the modulus operandi and other “trademark” information from the crime. You’d put in a request for an index run and it would come back in a week. The advent of computers has made it much easier. You can expand the information, manipulate it to a much greater degree without the laborious process with the punch cards. Computers have also revolutionized the use of fingerprints. They’ve allowed us to take one, single fingerprint and run it through literally thousands and thousands of thousands of files and possibly locate a suspect. It was impossible to do that kind of search before we had computers. You wouldn’t believe the number of crimes it’s allowed us to clear. We’ve gone back and picked up fingerprints on murders we’ve had on file for years. That’s how the Nightstalker was identified, on fingerprints run through a computerized fingerprint system.

InterAction: We’ve had police forces around the country tell us they use the Police Quest games as training tools. Has the LAPD used computerized training or experimented with computers in other ways?

Gates: I started a pilot program in Hollywood Division in which patrol officers were given laptop computers. The idea was to reduce the amount of paperwork they’d have to handle. Instead of handwriting and filling out a report, they simply put all their information into their laptops and sent it electronically. They didn’t have to go into the station to do a report. The officers loved it. The problem was the rest of our system wasn’t sophisticated enough to accept it. That’s what they’re working on now. Ultimately, we’ll have a paperless system. Being a police officer in the future will clearly include all kinds of similar things. There’ll be a time when you have a suspect in the field, put his finger on an electronic pad, and a computer will tell you if the guy is who he says he is, whether or not he has a record, whether there are any warrants for him. Today, every police officer has to have a basic understanding of how computers work.

InterAction: Do you use a personal computer?

Gates: I don’t and I’m embarrassed by it. I’ve always dealt with big mainframes for communications systems. I’m not familiar with the small computers at all — although recently I went out and bought a personal computer for a couple of neighbor kids. I’ve known them since they were born, and they’ve been almost like my own kids in many respects. They’re really smart and have reached the age where they need a computer. So I went out and bought them one for Christmas. I told them, “Look, the condition here is that you teach this old guy how to use this computer.” They’ve shown me a little bit, but I have an awful lot more to learn.

InterAction: Maybe you can show them how to win at Police Quest?

Gates: Well, I’m hopeful they’ll come away with the sense that you have to keep going back over all the information you have about the case, just as a detective does, using a very systematic approach. You need to continually go through the information you’ve collected and make sure your assumptions about the case are backed up by facts. That’s a hard thing for detectives to do, and I think it’s one of the things I’d like game players to understand better — that it’s tough for the detectives and it’ll be tough for them, too.

Decisions Behind the Scenes of Police Quest: Open Season

Decisions, decisions, decisions. Before most projects are complete, a myriad of decisions has been made, and Police Quest: Open Season is no exception. These decisions started when Ken Williams decided to approach Daryl Gates. Now why would he do that? And why did Daryl Gates agree to involve himself with a computer game? Since inquiring minds want to know, we thought that answers to these questions, and other tidbits of information, might be of interest.

The final decision to go with Gates came when Ken took a trip to Los Angeles to see the man personally. The press had sort of painted the guy as a real dictator, so Ken really didn't expect to like him, but the impression Ken came away with was very favorable. Gates' assistant were those of a perfect gentleman, and he was a real personable kind of guy. Ken didn't really agree with Gates on everything, but he has always liked people with strong opinions backed up with conviction.

Ken also took note of the commercial appeal of Gates around this time. His radio show on LA's talk radio station was quickly becoming one of the most listened to, despite what the press had to say about the guy, and his book Chief was selling quite well. Ken is also a fan of Rush Limbaugh, and when the first caller to Gates' show started with the customary "Dittos" greeting that Rush usually receives, I think Ken was at the turning point.

"Perhaps the single funniest thing I can think of that happened was a story I wrote about Daryl Gates with a picture of the Chief surfing off the California coast. Ken figures that any 60-year-old guy who took the time to go surfing each morning can't be all bad, so he made the mental decision to sign him."

"In the end, I think Ken's mind was made up because of the way Gates had been pinned as the fall guy for the whole LA Riot thing. The politics of it all made Ken that much more interested in Gates, and seemed just one more reason why Gates had the insight into how our law enforcement organizations really run. He decided the whole controversy over Gates would ultimately help the game sell better.

How did America's most experienced—and controversial—cop wind up at Sierra?

Why Ask Daryl Gates?

When Ken Williams first thought of approaching Daryl Gates for Police Quest: Open Season, John Williams was a key player in the decision. John, who is also Ken's brother, gave us the following personal insight.

"The decision to use Gates wasn't an easy one. This was well over a year ago now, and the film clips of LA burning on CNN were still pretty fresh in everyone's memory. A lot of Sierra people come from the Los Angeles area so there were some pretty strong negative opinions against Gates early on. But the more Ken learned about the Chief, the more he got to like him, and really believed that he was the right man for the job.

"Ken continued to talk to Gates and a handful of other notable law enforcement professionals over the next few months, but despite conversations with less controversial men, the decision kept coming back to the Chief. When you figure that Gates was with the LA Police Force for 43 years, and you think about the way that LA has changed in that time, you get a real feel for what he brings to the table. His involvement in the Hillside Strangler cases is pretty well known, and of course he had a bird's eye view of the LA Riots of 1992. But Gates was also part of the Manson Family murder investigations, and he headed field operations during the Watts Riots. His time in the streets stretched from the building of the first LA freeways to the first freeway shootings, and he's been everything from a patrol cop to the police chief. If we wanted perspective on things, we couldn't find a better man than Gates. He had the inside story on every investigation that Ken had read about in the Los Angeles newspapers. The decision quickly boiled down to a choice between Gates and a well-known author.

Tannery Dargan, a former producer for America's Most Wanted, leads the project.
Marketing the Game

While Police Quest: Open Season was still in development, the box design process began with these guidelines: “This fourth installment of the Police Quest series must be more realistic, more like real life, set in a real big city—and all this must be portrayed on the box.” Writers and artists set to work and produced various elements that the designer combined into three finished samples. Feedback was solicited from the field sales team, from marketing gurus, from the product development team, and from top management. That’s a lot of people, and they had a lot of opinions. Debate raged. Alternatives were hammered out and incorporated. As a final step, the Brand Manager and Marketing Research Specialist took three versions to two different software stores and solicited opinions from customers and retail clerks. Comments from customers tilted the final choice.

Gates coached the actors on accurate police procedures and weapon handling.

Photorealism in the Game

Designer Tammy Dargan, who has been a producer for segments on TV’s America’s Most Wanted, talked about the decision to use real photography rather than more traditional painted backgrounds. She and teammate cameraman Roi Fung drew on their knowledge of state-of-the-art photo technology when asked to come up with photorealism. They knew about digital photography but weren’t sure if it could be incorporated into a computer game. After much research, though, they found cameras and software to put to a very unique use. To their knowledge: this is the first use of digital cameras in any computer game.

When we say realism, we mean you walk the streets of LA

The result is they really created Los Angeles on screen. This is not just a rendition of LA in some way, but photography of the real city. Daryl Gates was involved to make sure the plot and procedures were real, and the new camera placed the action in the real city he knows. If you enter a small apartment, you’ll be entering a real small apartment. Your computer at home—which will have to be at least a 386/25, but they suggest a 386/33—is going to give you a very real look and feel for police work in LA.

Of the three boxes, which are pictured here, the file folder lost overwhelmingly. There was a split vote between the city scene and the bloody hand. Parents often had a side comment about the emphasis on blood, and we ended up leaning away from that presentation.

Daryl F. Gates investigated such cases as the Hillside Stranglers and the Manson murders.

Why Daryl Gates Agreed

Former LAPD Chief Daryl F. Gates, during a forty-three-year career in law enforcement, started as a rookie and moved up through the ranks to become Chief of the Department. In the months after he agreed to work on Police Quest: Open Season for Sierra On-Line he identified several of his reasons for becoming involved.

Increased understanding

He sees Police Quest: Open Season as an opportunity to help people get a more realistic view of the police. All too often, people form their impressions from TV and movies, viewpoints that Chief Gates feels are false, and he believes that even law enforcement officers are going to be surprised at the realism of Open Season. Following proper police procedures gives the player a real taste of what it’s like to be a detective gathering information, poring through collected material, and securing proper evidence for a court of law. Chief Gates hopes that understanding will help overcome some of the wariness people often feel about the police and will offer a better appreciation of what officers face on the job.

D.A.R.E. - Drug Abuse Resistance Education

Chief Gates is very strong in his support of the D.A.R.E. program. “One of the reasons I’m very anxious to do this particular game is that Sierra On-Line is giving a plug to D.A.R.E. Nine million kids every single day have the D.A.R.E. program in this country, and it’s spread throughout the entire world.”

Drug Abuse Resistance Education began in Los Angeles city schools back in 1983 as a program that put police officers in the classroom for a 17-lesson course on how to say “no” to drugs. Chief Gates again: “A couple of things happen there. Not only do the kids learn how to say ‘no’ and how to resist peer pressure, but they develop an incredible relationship with that police officer. They find out that a police officer is a warm, friendly human being, and that’s going to have a lasting impact on those kids. When they grow up, they’ll look at a police officer and remember that police officer in the classroom.”

110. MOTTO OF THE DEPARTMENT.
The motto, "To Protect and To Serve," states the essential purpose of the Los Angeles Police Department. The Department protects the right of all persons within its jurisdiction to be free from criminal attack, to be secure in their possessions, and to live in peace. The Department serves the people of Los Angeles by performing the law enforcement function in a professional manner, and it is to these people that the Department is ultimately responsible.

120. PRIMARY OBJECTIVE.
A large urban society free from crime and disorder remains an unachieved ideal; nevertheless, consistent with the values of a free society, it is the primary objective of the Los Angeles Police Department to as closely as possible approach that ideal. In so doing, the Department's role is to enforce the law in a fair and impartial manner, recognizing both the statutory and judicial limitations of police authority and the constitutional right of all persons. It is not the role of the Department to legislate, to render legal judgments, or to punish.

130. FUNCTIONAL OBJECTIVES.
130.10 PREVENTION OF CRIME.
Peace in a free society depends on voluntary compliance with the law. The primary responsibility for upholding the law therefore lies not with the police, but with the people. Since crime is a social phenomenon, crime prevention is the concern of every person living in society. Society employs full-time professional police to prevent crime, to deter it, and when that fails, to apprehend those who violate the law.

Crime is a symptom of ills within society which are not the responsibility of the Department to cure. The Department is responsible, however, for interacting with the community to generate mutual understanding so that there may be public support for crime prevention. Community involvement is essential to facilitate a free flow of information between the public and the Department to assist in the identification of problem areas and to inform the public of crime statistics and trends. Additionally, knowledge of the community is necessary so that each Department employee may be instilled with a sense of concern for the crime problems and law enforcement needs in his assigned area of responsibility.
The prevention of crime remains as a basic obligation of society. When it becomes necessary to rely on police action to secure compliance with the law, society has failed in this responsibility.

130.20 DETERRENCE OF CRIME.
While there are certain crimes that cannot be deterred, crimes committed against property and against innocent victims in public places are reduced by police patrol. Street crime is curbed by the potential criminal's fear of immediate apprehension or by the increased likelihood of his detection. The deterrence of crime requires the investigation of behavior which reasonably appears to be criminally directed.

In deploying patrol forces to deter crime and to inspire public confidence in its ability to ensure a peaceful environment, the Department must strike a balance between the desirable deterrent effect of visible patrol and any undesirable appearance of oppression. In the long run, however, it must be the people, not the Department, who determine the limitations on their freedom.

130.25 REVERENCE FOR HUMAN LIFE.
Reverence for human life is the primary consideration in developing tactics and strategies in pursuit of our motto: "To Protect and To Serve." Whenever an operation designed to achieve an immediate goal such as the arrest of a felon or the gathering of evidence to complete a criminal investigation causes a victim, witness, or other innocent person to be subjected to potential injury or death, our primary objective must be to protect that person. No arrest, conviction, or piece of evidence can outweigh the value of human life.

130.30 APPREHENSION OF OFFENDERS.
The administration of criminal justice consists of the identification, arrest, prosecution, punishment, and rehabilitation of a law violator, and it has as its objective the voluntary compliance with the law as an alternative to punishment. Once a crime has been committed, it is the duty of the Department to initiate the criminal justice process by identifying and arresting the perpetrator, to obtain necessary evidence, and to cooperate in the prosecution of the case.
As the certainty of swift and sure punishment serves as an effective deterrent to crime, the Department must diligently strive to solve all crimes and to bring the perpetrators to justice.

140. RESOURCE OBJECTIVES.

140.10 DEPARTMENT PERSONNEL.
Police officers are frequently required to make decisions affecting human life and liberty in difficult situations where there is no opportunity to seek advice and little time for reflection. Law enforcement in a free and complex society requires an officer to have the stamina, intelligence, moral courage, and emotional stability necessary to fairly and impartially deal with human beings in the many complicated and potentially explosive situations which he encounters. To obtain the caliber of personnel necessary to provide the public with professional law enforcement, it is essential that the Department participate in the recruitment and selection of potential officers. Thereafter, the Department must provide training for all officers and promote the most qualified.

140.20 UTILIZATION OF RESOURCES.
Law enforcement is one of the most expensive and complex services provided by the City. The quality and extent of service provided are necessarily limited by available resources which are to a large extent dependent upon the revenue sources of the City. To ensure that the highest level of service is obtained from the resources at its disposal, the Department must make use of the most efficient management and budgeting techniques available.

PERSONAL CONDUCT

210. EMPLOYEE CONDUCT.

210.10 LAW ENFORCEMENT CODE OF ETHICS.
"As a law enforcement officer, my fundamental duty is to serve mankind; to safeguard lives and property, to protect the innocent against deception, the weak against oppression or intimidation, and the peaceful against violence or disorder; and to respect the Constitutional rights of all men to liberty, equality and justice.

I will keep my private life unsullied as an example to all; maintain courageous calm in the face of danger, scorn, or ridicule; develop self-restraint; and be constantly mindful of the welfare of others. Honest in thought and deed in both my personal and official life, I will be exemplary in obeying the laws of the land and the regulations of my department. Whatever I see or hear of a confidential nature or that is confided to me in my official capacity will be kept ever secret unless revelation is necessary in the performance of my duty.

I will never act officiously or permit personal feelings, prejudices, animosities, or friendships to influence my decisions. With no compromise for crime and with relentless prosecution of criminals, I will enforce the law courteously and appropriately without fear or favor, malice or ill will, never employing unnecessary force or violence and never accepting gratuities.

I recognize the badge of my office as a symbol of public faith, and I accept it as a public trust to be held so long as I am true to the ethics of the police service. I will constantly strive to achieve these objectives and ideals, dedicating myself before God to my chosen profession . . . law enforcement.”

210.13 RESPECT FOR OTHERS.
The cosmopolitan nature of the City is reflected in the diversity of Department employees. In such a diverse environment, biases or prejudices relating to factors such as race, ethnicity, sex, age, economic status, position in the community, or employee status with the Department must not be allowed to influence decision making or conduct involving other employees. While employees are entitled to their personal beliefs, they must not allow individual feelings or prejudices to enter into professional contacts. Employees must treat one another with respect and be constantly mindful that other people are individuals with emotions and needs as significant as their own.

Respect for individual dignity is an integral part of the Department’s management philosophy and must be practiced by everyone. Employees shall treat all persons with respect and courtesy, and conduct themselves in a manner that will foster the greatest harmony and cooperation between themselves and other members of the Department.

210.15 LOYALTY.
In the performance of his duty to serve society, an officer is often called upon to make difficult decisions. He must exercise discretion in situations where his rights and liabilities and those of the Department hinge upon his conduct and judgment. An officer’s decisions are not easily made and occasionally they involve a choice which may cause him hardship or discomfort. An officer must be faithful to his oath of office, the principles of professional police service, and the objectives of the Department, and in the discharge of his duty he must not allow personal motives to govern his decisions and conduct.

210.20 INTEGRITY.
The public demands that the integrity of its law enforcement officers be above reproach, and the dishonesty of a single officer may impair public confidence and cast suspicion upon the entire Department. Succumbing to even minor temptation can be the genesis of a malignancy which may ultimately destroy an individual’s effectiveness and may contribute to the corruption of countless others. An officer must scrupulously avoid any conduct which might compromise the integrity of himself, his fellow officers, or the Department.

210.25 ATTENTION TO DUTY.
As most police work is necessarily performed without close supervision, the responsibility for the proper performance of an officer’s duty lies primarily with the officer himself. An officer carries with him a responsibility for the safety of the community and his fellow officers. He discharges that responsibility by the faithful and diligent performance of his assigned duty. Anything less violates the trust placed in him by the people, and nothing less qualifies as professional conduct.

210.30 COMPLIANCE WITH LAWFUL ORDERS.
The Department is an organization with a clearly defined hierarchy of authority. This is necessary because unquestioned obedience of a superior’s lawful command is essential for the safe and prompt performance of law enforcement operations. The most desirable means of obtaining compliance are recognition and reward of proper performance and the positive encouragement of a willingness to serve. However, negative discipline may be necessary where there is a willful disregard of lawful orders, commands, or directives.
210.35 CONDUCT UNBECOMING AN OFFICER.
A police officer is the most conspicuous representative of government, and to the majority of the people the officer is a symbol of stability and authority upon whom they can rely. An officer’s conduct is closely scrutinized, and when the officer’s actions are found to be excessive, unwarranted, or unjustified, they are criticized far more severely than comparable conduct of persons in other walks of life. Since the conduct of officers, on or off duty, may reflect directly upon the Department, officers must at all times conduct themselves in a manner which does not bring discredit to themselves, the Department, or the City.

210.47 POLICE OFFICERS’ DUTY TO TESTIFY.
Among the duties of police officers are those of preventing the commission of crime, of assisting in its detection, and of disclosing all information known to them which may lead to the apprehension and punishment of those who have transgressed the law. When police officers acquire knowledge of facts which will tend to incriminate any person, it is their duty to disclose such facts to their superiors and to testify freely concerning such facts when called upon to do so, even at the risk of self-incrimination. It is a violation of duty for police officers to refuse to disclose pertinent facts within their knowledge, and such neglect of duty can result in disciplinary action up to and including termination.

210.50 USE OF INTOXICANTS.
There is an immediate lowering of esteem and suspicion of ineffectiveness when there is public contact by a Department employee evidencing the use of intoxicants. Additionally, the stresses of law enforcement require an employee to be mentally alert and physically responsive. Except as necessary in the performance of an official assignment, the consumption of intoxicants is prohibited while an employee is on-duty. While on-duty, officers shall not be permitted to consume intoxicants to such a degree that it impairs their on-duty performance.

Department personnel shall not consume any intoxicants at any Department facility.
PERSONAL CONDUCT

210.55 ALCOHOL AND STRESS RELATED PROBLEMS.
The Department recognizes that alcoholism and stress-related problems are genuine medical problems which are deserving of the same concern and degree of understanding as the more traditional illnesses. Every employee should be aware of the symptoms of alcoholism and stress. Employees should not hesitate to seek professional assistance for themselves or offer to help fellow employees affected by these disorders. The personal obligation of individual employees regarding assistance to fellow employees includes the recognition of the symptoms of alcoholism and/or stress problems. There is also an accompanying moral obligation to encourage the affected employee to seek professional assistance.

Supervisory personnel becoming aware of behavioral patterns indicative of alcoholism or stress among Department employees should immediately meet with the concerned employee to determine if alcohol abuse or stress may be causing the problem behavior. Initially, the supervisor should encourage the concerned employee to voluntarily seek assistance from qualified professionals if alcohol abuse or stress is the basis for an employee’s problem. If necessary, the concerned employee may be mandatorily directed to the Department’s Behavioral Science Services for assistance.

210.60 USE OF CHEWING TOBACCO AND SNUFF.
Department employees are the most prominent representative of government and as such must present a professional image at all times. An employee’s unwise or unsightly use of chewing tobacco and snuff is offensive to the public and coworkers, and detracts from the professional bearing of the employee. The use of chewing tobacco and snuff is prohibited while on-duty, or off-duty in uniform.

230. WHEN TO TAKE POLICE ACTION.

230.05 RESPONSIBILITY OF ON-DUTY OFFICERS.
On-Duty, Within City, Fully Responsible. On-duty officers within the City limits, after considering the tactical situation, are to take all steps reasonably necessary and consistent with their assignment to effect the enforcement of the penal provisions of the City, State, and Nation, and to protect life and property.
On-Duty, Outside of City, Fully responsible for City Matters. On-duty officers outside the City limits who become aware of a situation requiring police action must first consider the tactical situation, then take all steps reasonably necessary on police matters of direct concern to the City of Los Angeles.

230.10 RESPONSIBILITY OF OFF-DUTY OFFICERS.
Under California law, both on- and off-duty officers have peace officer authority as to any public offense committed or which there is probable cause to believe has been committed in his presence and with respect to which there is immediate danger to person or property, or the escape of the perpetrator of such offense. However, on-duty officers outside the City limits who are not acting within the scope of their employment as Los Angeles Police officers on matters of direct concern to the City and off-duty officers both inside and outside of the City limits are to give first consideration to causing the appropriate action to be effected by the responsible law enforcement agency. Such officers should then act only after consideration of the tactical situation and of their possible liability and that of the City of Los Angeles.

240. EMPLOYEE-PUBLIC CONTACT.

240.05 RESPECT FOR CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS.
No person has a constitutional right to violate the law; neither may any person be deprived of his constitutional rights merely because he is suspected of having committed a crime. The task of determining the constitutionality of a statute lies with an appellate court of proper jurisdiction, not with an officer who seeks to properly enforce the law as it exists. Therefore, an officer may enforce any federal, state, or local statute which is valid on its face without fear of abrogating the constitutional rights of the person violating that statute. An officer who lawfully acts within the scope of his authority does not deprive persons of their civil liberties. He may within the scope of his authority make reasonable inquiries, conduct investigations, and arrest on probable cause. However, when an officer exceeds his authority by unreasonable conduct, he violates the sanctity of the law which he is sworn to uphold.
240.10 USE OF FORCE.
In a complex urban society, officers are daily confronted with situations where control must be exercised to effect arrests and to protect the public safety. Control may be achieved through advice, warnings, and persuasion, or by the use of physical force. While the use of reasonable physical force may be necessary in situations which cannot be otherwise controlled, force may not be resorted to unless other reasonable alternatives have been exhausted or would clearly be ineffective under the particular circumstances. Officers are permitted to use whatever force that is reasonable and necessary to protect others or themselves from bodily harm.

240.15 COURTESY.
Effective law enforcement depends on a high degree of cooperation between the Department and the public it serves. The practice of courtesy in all public contacts encourages understanding and appreciation; discourtesy breeds contempt and resistance. The majority of the public are law-abiding citizens who rightfully expect fair and courteous treatment by Department employees. While the urgency of a situation might preclude the ordinary social amenities, discourtesy under any circumstance is indefensible. The practice of courtesy by an officer is not a manifestation of weakness; it is, on the contrary, entirely consistent with the firmness and impartiality that characterizes a professional police officer.

270. EMPLOYEE CONFLICT OF INTEREST.

270.25 OFFICER CONTACTS WITH THE PUBLIC.
In each of his contacts with the public, an officer must be aware that his actions, appearance, and statements are those of the Department. For that reason, and because of the inherent potential for conflict in many police contacts, an officer must develop a fair, impartial, and reasonable attitude and perform his task in a businesslike manner. His statements must be the result of considered judgment and be absent of personal opinion, bias, or editorial comment. Extended conversation which reflects the officer's personal opinions will normally be considered inappropriate.

280. SEXUAL HARASSMENT.
It is essential that the Department maintain a healthy working environment which will provide all employees the opportunity to perform their duties to their fullest potential. The working environment must be free of sexual harassment to assure fair and courteous treatment of all employees. Sexual harassment is a violation of Federal and State law and City and Department policy. It exposes the City, the Police Department, and the offending employee to serious liability and can lower morale, undermine the integrity of employee relationships, and interfere with the efficiency of Department operations. Sexual harassment is viewed by the Department as serious misconduct which can result in the offending employee being subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination. The Department will not tolerate sexual harassment.

Employee Responsibility. All employees are responsible for avoiding situations which involve actual or apparent sexual harassment. When employees observe behavior they believe to be sexual harassment they should confront the offender directly and make it clear that the offender's behavior is unacceptable and the behavior must stop. Employees who become aware of conduct they believe to be sexual harassment, whether or not the conduct is directed at them, witnessed by them, or related to them by another employee, shall report the incident to a supervisor immediately. Employees who do not receive a satisfactory response to their complaint shall contact the next level of supervision, the Sexual Harassment Counselor/Women's Coordinator.

All employees may obtain support and guidance when dealing with situations involving sexual harassment. In addition to their supervisors, the Sexual Harassment Counselor/Women's Coordinator, employees may also contact the City Personnel Department's Sexual Harassment Counselor, Equal Employment Opportunities Division.

Supervisory Responsibility. Supervisory employees shall ensure that each workplace has a working atmosphere free from sexual harassment for all employees. The working environment shall be businesslike, assuring fair and courteous treatment for all employees and the public they serve. Supervisors shall take prompt and appropriate action whenever they observe or are made aware of any action or conduct that may be interpreted as sexual harassment.

Command Responsibility. Commanding officers are responsible for ensuring that their commands are free of sexual harassment by providing appropriate training and inspection which ensures the existence of a working environment free of sexual harassment. Moreover, commanding officers shall ensure that supervisors assigned to their command strictly enforce the policy of the Department against sexual harassment promptly and appropriately.

COMMUNITY RELATIONS

310. GENERAL PROVISIONS. Community relations is based upon the principle that in a democratic society the police are an integral and indivisible element of the public they serve. Community relations is manifested by positive interaction between the people and the police and represents their unity and common purpose.

A system of law and its enforcement is not superimposed upon an unwilling public in a free society; the law is created by the people themselves to control the behavior of those who would seek to interfere with the community welfare and existence.

While the primary responsibility for the enforcement of the law lies with the people, the complexities of modern society and the inability of the people to personally cope with crime has required that they create the police service to assist in maintaining social order. The police represent only a portion of the total resources expended by the public to this end; however, this effort, frequently being restrictive of individual freedom, brings the police into contact with members of the public under circumstances which have a far-reaching impact upon the lives of the affected individuals. A citizen’s encounter with the police can be a very frightening and emotionally painful experience, and under these circumstances, the risk of a misunderstanding is very great. The minimization of this risk is a challenge intrinsic to each public contact by the Department. The Department must strive for the establishment of a climate where an officer may perform his duties with the acceptance, understanding, and approval of the public. Additionally, the willing and practiced participation of the people in enforcing the law is essential for the preservation of freedom.

320. INDIVIDUAL DIGNITY.
A recognition of individual dignity is vital in a free system of law. Just as all persons are subject to the law, all persons have a right to dignified treatment under the law, and the protection of this right is a duty which is as binding on the Department as any other.

An officer must treat a person with as much respect as that person will allow, and he must be constantly mindful that the people with whom he is dealing are individuals with human emotions and needs. Such conduct is not a duty imposed in addition to an officer’s primary responsibilities, it is inherent in them.

330. ROLE OF THE INDIVIDUAL OFFICER.
Community relations is manifested in its most common form in the numerous daily encounters between individual officers and citizens. It is at this level that reality is given to the unity of the people and the police and where the greatest burden for strengthening community relations is laid.

In dealing with people each officer must attempt to make his contact one which inspires respect for himself as an individual and professional and one which generates the cooperation and approval of the public. While entitled to his personal beliefs, an officer cannot allow his individual feelings or prejudices to enter into public contacts. However, since an officer’s prejudices may be subconsciously manifested, it is incumbent upon him to strive for the elimination of attitudes which might impair his impartiality and effectiveness.

340. EQUALITY OF ENFORCEMENT.
As one of the world’s largest cities, Los Angeles is composed of many different communities, each with its own life style and each with its own individual crime problems. The cosmopolitan nature of the City is manifested by the diverse ethnic and sociological background of its people. However, all persons in each area of the City have in common the need for the protection which is afforded by fair and impartial law enforcement.

Additionally, as a person moves throughout the City, he must be able to expect a similar police response to his behavior wherever it occurs.
Where the law is not evenly enforced, there follows a reduction in respect for the law and a resistance to its enforcement.

In order to respond to varying law enforcement needs in the different parts of the City, the Department must have flexibility in deployment and methods of enforcement; however, enforcement policies should be formulated on a Citywide basis, and applied uniformly in all areas.

Implicit in uniform enforcement of law is the element of evenhandedness in its application. The amount of force used or the method employed to secure compliance with the law or to make arrests is governed by the particular situation. Similar circumstances require similar treatment in all areas of the City and for all groups and individuals.

To ensure equal treatment in similar circumstances, an officer must be alert to situations where, because of a language barrier or for some other reason, he may be called upon to display additional patience and understanding in dealing with what might otherwise appear to be a lack of response.

350. RESPONSIVENESS TO THE COMMUNITY.
The Department must be responsive to the needs and problems of the community. While the Department’s task is governed by the law, the policies formulated to guide the enforcement of the law must include consideration of the public will. This responsiveness must be manifested at all levels of the Department by a willingness to listen and by a genuine concern for the problems of individuals or groups. The total needs of the community must become an integral part of the programs designed to carry out the mission of the Department.

360. OPENNESS OF OPERATION.
Law enforcement operations in a free society must not be shrouded in secrecy. It is necessary that there be full public disclosure of policies and an openness in matters of public interest. Consistent with protection of the legal rights of involved individuals and with consideration of the necessity for maintaining the confidentiality of Department records and of other primary Department responsibilities, the Department is to disseminate accurate and factual accounts of occurrences of public interest. Additionally, the Department must strive to make known and accepted its objectives and policies.
370. INTERPERSONAL COMMUNICATION.
To promote understanding and cooperation there must be interpersonal communication between members of the community and officers at all levels of the Department. Each employee must be aware of the law enforcement needs of the community and his particular assigned area of responsibility. Guided by policy, an officer must tailor his performance to attain the objectives of the Department and to solve the specific crime problems in the area he serves. The Department must provide for programs to encourage productive dialogue with the public at all levels and to ensure that the unity of the police and the people is preserved.

380. TRAINING IN HUMAN AND COMMUNITY RELATIONS.
The selection process for police officers is designed to choose the most qualified and to eliminate those who are physically, emotionally, mentally, or socially unfit. Those selected, however, are representative of the community at large and as such are subject to having the same prejudices and biases found in much of society. Exposure to crime and its aftermath can tend to harden and render insensitive an officer whose sympathetic understanding is needed to properly perform his duties. The Department must provide initial and continuing training in human and community relations to help officers avoid this hardening of attitude and to imbue in each officer an understanding of his total role in the community.

LA Police Department Manual community relations excerpt recognizes that alcoholism and stress-related problems are genuine medical problems which are deserving of the same concern and degree of understanding as the more traditional illnesses. Every employee should be aware of the symptoms of alcoholism and stress. Employees should not hesitate to seek professional assistance for themselves or offer to help fellow employees affected by these disorders. The personal obligation of individual employees regarding assistance to fellow employees includes the recognition of the symptoms of alcoholism and/or stress problems. There is also an accompanying moral obligation to encourage the affected employee to seek professional assistance.

among Department employees should immediately meet with the concerned employee to determine if alcohol abuse or stress may be causing the problem behavior. Initially, the supervisor should encourage the concerned employee to voluntarily seek assistance from qualified professionals if alcohol abuse or stress is the basis for an employee's problem. If necessary, the concerned employee may be mandatorily directed to the Department's Behavioral Science Services for assistance.

COMMUNITY AFFAIRS

420. NEWS MEDIA RELATIONS.

420.10 ROLE OF THE NEWS MEDIA.
A well-informed public is essential to the existence of a democratic nation. To effectively exercise his franchise, a citizen must be aware of current events and the state of government. A free press serves the public by supplying needed information, by stimulating thought, and by providing a medium for expression.

Crime, its results, and the efforts to combat it are all matters of continuing public concern. The Department is regularly involved in events at which members of the news media are properly present and performing their task of gathering information.

420.20 ROLE OF THE DEPARTMENT.
The Department actively seeks to establish a cooperative climate in which the news media may obtain information on matters of public interest in a manner which does not hamper police operations. However, certain information must be withheld from the news media in order to protect the constitutional rights of an accused, to avoid interfering with a Department investigation, or because it is legally privileged.

420.30 DEPARTMENT PRESS RELATIONS OFFICER.
To foster cooperation and mutual respect between the news media and the Department, a member of the personal staff of the Chief of Police is designated as the Department Press Relations Officer. His personal services are made available to authorized representatives of the news media to assist in solving problems of mutual concern to the press and the Department. Additionally, the Press Relations Officer responds to serious police incidents to assist the news media in their function.
420.40 RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE RELEASE OF
INFORMATION.
When an event being investigated is of such a spectacular or unusual nature as to stimulate general community interest, the news media will be notified.

420.50 SCOPE AND CONTENT
OF THE RELEASE OF
INFORMATION.
The scope and content of each release of information must be determined according to the facts of each situation. Generally, a description of the circumstances which is not legally privileged and which will not prejudice the rights of suspects or interfere with an investigation will be made.

420.80 WHERE A NEWSMAN IS NOT AUTHORIZED.
While a newsman may be permitted in the area of a crime scene or a serious police incident, he does not have the authority to be within a crime scene or area which has been secured to preserve evidence or at any location where his presence jeopardizes police operations.

420.85 NEWS MEDIA NOT EXEMPT FROM LAWS.
A newsman’s primary responsibility is to report the news by obtaining information and photographs at news-worthy incidents. His opportunity to do so is infrequently momentary at an emergency scene.
An officer sharing these circumstances with a newsman should not unnecessarily obstruct the newsman in the performance of his duty; however, members of the news media are neither impliedly nor expressly exempt from any municipal, state, or federal statute.

440. PUBLIC INFORMATION.

440.10 REQUESTS FOR INFORMATION.
The public has an abiding interest in law enforcement and in the activities of the Department. The news media and members of the public frequently direct inquiries to the Department seeking information on a variety of subjects. While it is the aim of the Department to fulfill such requests, it is not always possible to do so.
Whether to release information or to grant interviews will be determined according to the facts of each case.
440.40 RESPONSIBILITY OF OFFICERS TO SUPPLY INFORMATION.
Frequently, due to public expectations and because of his accessibility, an officer is called upon to supply information both related and unrelated to the law enforcement function. An officer should appropriately answer questions put to him or refer the person to the proper individual or agency for such answers. When a request is made for information about a police matter, an officer should decide if he is in possession of sufficient facts and is qualified to respond, and whether the person making the request is a proper person to receive the information. Generally, an officer should be open in his dealings with the public and, unless there is reason to the contrary, he should supply requested information. He should, however, be cautious to avoid representing as fact that which is his opinion.

480. LIAISON WITH CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEM.

480.10 COOPERATION WITH OTHER LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES.
The Department maintains a close working relationship with other law enforcement agencies, and makes available to them information concerning techniques and procedures developed or used by the Department.

480.20 CRITICISM OF CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEM.
The Department shares responsibility with the Judiciary and other law enforcement and prosecution agencies in the criminal justice system. All elements of the system work toward common objectives and each element is functionally complementary. The cooperative and harmonious working relationships which are essential in attaining those objectives are impaired by unnecessary criticism of others engaged in the administration of criminal justice. For that reason officers should be aware of the effect upon law enforcement of any comments they make which might be interpreted as being critical of other law enforcement or prosecution agencies or individual members of the Judiciary. However, it is not intended that there be any infringement of an officer's right to express his personal views regarding the criminal justice system in general or any trends which seem destructive of its efficacy.
LAW ENFORCEMENT OPERATIONS

504. THE NATURE OF THE TASK.
Law enforcement operations consist of many diverse activities which are directed toward the attainment of Department objectives. Activities such as patrolling, conducting field interviews, and issuing traffic citations are not objectives in themselves; rather, they are methods of achieving the real objectives of preventing and deterring crime, arresting criminal offenders, and preventing traffic collisions.

Decisions in law enforcement operations frequently must be made in an instant, and the lives of officers and others may depend upon the quality of those decisions. An officer is confronted in stress situations with both criminal and noncriminal behavior, and he must be capable of making a reasonable response in both cases. An officer must base his conduct and action in each instance upon the facts of the situation as they reasonably appear, relying upon his experience, training, and judgment to guide him toward morally justified and lawful decisions and actions.

508. POLICE ACTION BASED ON LEGAL JUSTIFICATION.
What is reasonable in terms of appropriate police action or what constitutes probable cause varies with each situation, and different facts may justify either an investigation, a detention, a search, an arrest, or no action at all. The requirement that legal justification be present imposes a limitation on an officer’s action. In every case, an officer must act reasonably within the limits of his authority as defined by statute and judicial interpretation, thereby ensuring that the rights of both the individual and the public are protected.

520. PRELIMINARY INVESTIGATION.

520.10 SCOPE OF PRELIMINARY INVESTIGATION.
The scope of preliminary investigation by a uniformed officer may be very restricted or it may constitute the entire investigation of the crime. In a particular crime, the scope of the preliminary investigation may be limited by investigative policy, and in all cases it is limited by an officer’s assignment workload. Consistent with his other responsibilities, an officer should continue a preliminary investigation to the point where the delay in investigation caused by the report being processed will not materially jeopardize the investigation.
520.20 FOLLOW-UP INVESTIGATION BY UNIFORMED OFFICERS.
Uniformed officers may conduct a limited follow-up investigation upon supervisory approval when there is a reasonable chance of apprehending the suspect, when there is a need for obtaining additional information for the preliminary investigation report, or when there are other compelling circumstances.

520.30 COURTESY CRIME REPORTS.
Generally, crime reports shall not be completed for occurrences outside the City. Department personnel should impress upon a citizen requesting a crime report the importance of an expeditious investigation and the fact that this can only occur if the crime is reported to the concerned agency. In those cases where exigent circumstances exist that would make it impractical for a person to report the crime to the concerned agency, a courtesy report may be completed, with prior supervisory approval.

522. REPORTING INCIDENTS MOTIVATED BY HATRED OR PREJUDICE.
It is the policy of the Los Angeles Police Department to ensure that the rights of all people guaranteed by the constitutions of the United States and the State of California are protected. When such rights are infringed upon by violence, threats, or other harassment, the Department will use every necessary resource to rapidly and decisively identify the suspects, arrest them, and bring them to justice.

Acts or threats of violence motivated by hatred or prejudice are serious. Such acts generate fear and concern among victims and the public and have the potential of recurring, escalating, and possibly causing counterviolence.

528. FIELD SUPERVISION.
Since emergency situations occur without warning, and their duration is often brief, officers must frequently make critical decisions without benefit of on-the-scene direction. In most police operations, however, supervision is available and necessary to provide guidance and training. Supervision gives coherence to the police task and directs the energies of the Department into an organized effort. Proper supervision is essential to maintain a professional level of competence in law enforcement operations.
528.10 SUPERVISION IN FIELD OPERATIONS.
The Department is an organization with an assignment of responsibility and accountability throughout the rank structure. To the degree that a senior officer is responsible and accountable for the performance of his junior, he must be granted commensurate authority in order to properly discharge his supervisorial responsibility. Field supervision begins with the senior policemen of the Department, and it is upon them that the primary burden of training and supervising less experienced officers is placed. A field sergeant is the first level of full-time supervision, and it is his primary responsibility to guide, train, direct, and motivate those over whom he has control. A field sergeant is not normally expected to engage in law enforcement operations except in a command or supervisory capacity.

536. CRIME SCENE SUPERVISION.
The senior investigating officer present is in charge of a crime scene.

540. FOLLOW-UP INVESTIGATION.

540.10 INVESTIGATION OF REPORTED CRIMES.
Follow-up investigation consists of efforts to interview victims and witnesses; locate, identify, and preserve physical evidence; recover stolen property; identify, locate, interview, and arrest suspects; present the case to the prosecutor; and cooperate in the prosecution of the defendant. Such investigations are conducted to produce evidence relating to the guilt or innocence of any suspect and to recover property.

540.20 ALLOCATION OF RESOURCES TO FOLLOW-UP INVESTIGATIONS.
As it is not feasible to expend equal time and energy in the investigation of all reported crimes, priority of investigation and allocation of resources must be based upon the relative seriousness of each reported crime. However, reported crimes will be investigated to the fullest extent possible without regard to the status of the victims or the areas of the City in which the crimes occur.

544. INFORMANTS.

544.10 USE OF INFORMANTS.
Often, information from confidential sources is the investigative lead which solves a case and without which there could not be a prosecution.
Information is received by the Department regarding criminal activities and suspects from persons in all walks of life. Many people who give information have been victims or witnesses of crimes, or they may have a strong desire to aid law enforcement. There are others motivated purely by selfish interests. However, regardless of their motivation, the use of informants is a basic weapon in the fight against crime, and they are a judicially recognized source of information. An informant's motivation should be carefully evaluated in determining the extent upon which the information will be relied.

544.20 INFORMANT'S IMMUNITY FROM PROSECUTION.
Informants will sometimes offer to exchange information for immunity or for their release. Such immunity may properly be granted by a judge in a judicial proceeding; however, neither the Department nor any of its members may grant any person immunity from prosecution.

546. CONDUCT OF UNDERCOVER OFFICERS.
In order to obtain information and evidence regarding criminal activities, it may be necessary that the Department utilize undercover operators. Such operators shall not become "Agents Provocateurs" or engage in entrapment. The officers shall not commit any act or omit to perform any duty imposed by law which constitutes a crime.

547. UNDERCOVERT OFFICERS POSING AS MEMBERS OF THE NEWS MEDIA.
The use of a news media cover by an officer to obtain intelligence information is not an acceptable form of undercover activity. Once a police officer is discovered in such a role, particularly in a crowd control situation, legitimate members of the media become suspect and could possibly be exposed to danger. In addition, such undercover activity does damage to the trust which should exist between members of a free society and the news media which serves them.

548. DEPARTMENT RESPONSE TO IMPENDING RIOT.
When the City is confronted with a situation which may escalate into a riot, the Department must establish control of the situation by reacting quickly and committing sufficient resources to control the situation. Control must be established in all parts of the involved area so that there are no areas into which the Department cannot go. Law violators must be arrested and their prosecution sought. Finally, the Department must remain in the affected area with adequate personnel and equipment for a sufficient period of time after order is restored to convince all concerned that additional outbreaks will not be tolerated.

556. USE OF FIREARMS.

556.10 PREAMBLE TO THE POLICY ON THE USE OF FIREARMS.
The use of a firearm is in all probability the most serious act in which a law enforcement officer will engage. It has the most far-reaching consequences for all of the parties involved. It is, therefore, imperative not only that the officer act within the boundaries of legal guidelines, ethics, good judgment, and accepted practices, but also that the officer be prepared by training, leadership, and direction to act wisely whenever using a firearm in the course of duty.

A reverence for the value of human life shall guide officers in considering the use of deadly force. While officers have an affirmative duty to use that degree of force necessary to protect human life, the use of deadly force is not justified merely to protect property interests.

It is in the public interest that a police officer of this Department be guided by a policy which the people believe to be fair and appropriate and which creates public confidence in the Department and its individual officers.

This policy is not intended to create doubt in the mind of an officer at a moment when action is critical and there is little time for meditation or reflection. It provides basic guidelines governing the use of firearms so that officers can be confident in exercising judgment as to the use of deadly force. Such a policy must be viewed as an administrative guide for decision-making before the fact and as a standard for administrative judgment of the propriety of the action taken. It is not to be considered a standard for external judgment (civil or criminal litigation) of the propriety of an action taken. This is a matter of established law and also a process for courts and juries reviewing specific facts of a given incident.
556.20 NECESSITY THAT OFFICERS BE ARMED.
As long as members of the public are victims of violent crimes and officers in the performance of their duties are confronted with deadly force, it will remain necessary for police officers to be properly armed for the protection of society and themselves.

556.25 REASON FOR THE USE OF DEADLY FORCE.
An officer is equipped with a firearm to protect himself or others against the immediate threat of death or serious bodily injury or to apprehend a fleeing felon who has committed a violent crime and whose escape presents a substantial risk of death or serious bodily injury to others.

556.30 PROTECTION OF GENERAL PUBLIC.
Regardless of the nature of the crime or the justification for firing at a suspect, officers must remember that their basic responsibility is to protect the public. Officers shall not fire under conditions that would subject bystanders or hostages to death or possible injury, except to preserve life or prevent serious bodily injury. Firing under such conditions is not justified unless the failure to do so at the time would create a substantial immediate threat of death or serious bodily injury.

556.35 MINIMIZING THE RISK OF DEATH.
An officer does not shoot with the intent to kill; he shoots when it is necessary to prevent the individual from completing what he is attempting. In the extreme stress of a shooting situation, an officer may not have the opportunity or ability to direct his shot to a nonfatal area. To require him to do so, in every instance, could increase the risk of harm to himself or others. However, in keeping with the philosophy that the minimum force that is necessary should be used, officers should be aware that, even in the rare cases where the use of firearms reasonably appears necessary, the risk of death to any person should be minimized.

556.40 THE USE OF DEADLY FORCE.
An officer is authorized the use of deadly force when it reasonably appears necessary:

* To protect himself or others from an immediate threat of death or serious bodily injury, or
* To prevent a crime where the suspect's actions place persons in jeopardy of death or serious bodily injury, or
* To apprehend a fleeing felon for a crime involving serious bodily injury
of the use of deadly force where there is a substantial risk that the person whose arrest is sought will cause death or serious bodily injury to others if apprehension is delayed.
Officers shall not use deadly force to protect themselves from assaults which are not likely to have serious results.

Firing at or from moving vehicles is generally prohibited. Experience shows such action is rarely effective and is extremely hazardous to innocent persons.

Deadly force shall only be exercised when all reasonable alternatives have been exhausted or appear impracticable.

556.50 JUSTIFICATION LIMITED TO FACTS KNOWN TO OFFICER.
Justification for the use of deadly force must be limited to what reasonably appear to be the facts known or perceived by an officer at the time he decides to shoot. Facts unknown to an officer, no matter how compelling, cannot be considered at a later date to justify a shooting.

556.55 SUSPECTED FELONY OFFENDERS.
An officer shall not fire at a person who is called upon to halt on mere suspicion and who simply runs away to avoid arrest. Nor should an officer fire at a "fleeing felon" if the officer has any doubt whether the person fired at is in fact the person against whom the use of deadly force is permitted under this policy.

556.60 YOUTHFUL FELONY
SUSPECTS.
This Department has always utilized extreme caution with respect to the use of deadly force against youthful offenders. Nothing in this policy is intended to reduce the degree of care required in such cases.

556.70 SHOOTING AT FLEEING
MISDEMEANANTS.
Officers shall not use deadly force to effect the arrest or prevent the escape of a person whose only offense is classified solely as a misdemeanor under the Penal Code.

556.75 FIRING WARNING
SHOTS.
Generally, warning shots should not be fired.
556.80 DRAWING OR EXHIBITING FIREARMS.
Unnecessarily or prematurely drawing or exhibiting a firearm limits an officer’s alternatives in controlling a situation, creates unnecessary anxiety on the part of citizens, and may result in an unwarranted or accidental discharge of the firearm. Officers shall not draw or exhibit a firearm unless the circumstances surrounding the incident create a reasonable belief that it may be necessary to use the firearm in conformance with this policy on the use of firearms.

Note: During a special meeting on September 29, 1977, the Board of Police Commissioners adopted the following as a valid interpretation of this Section:

“Unnecessarily or prematurely drawing or exhibiting a firearm limits an officer’s alternatives in controlling a situation, creates unnecessary anxiety on the part of citizens, and may result in an unwarranted or accidental discharge of the firearm. An officer’s decision to draw or exhibit a firearm should be based on the tactical situation and the officer’s reasonable belief there is a substantial risk that the situation may escalate to the point where deadly force may be justified. When an officer has determined that the use of deadly force is not necessary, the officer shall, as soon as practicable, secure or holster the firearm.”

564. OFFICERS SURRENDERING WEAPON.
An officer or his partner may be at the mercy of an armed suspect who has the advantage, but experience has shown that the danger to an officer is not reduced by his giving up his gun upon demand. Surrendering his weapon might mean giving away his only chance for survival; therefore, an officer should use every tactical tool at his disposal to avoid surrendering his weapon.

571. USE OF DEPARTMENT POLICE DOGS.
Police dogs are a multi-functional asset of the Los Angeles Police Department. Police dogs may be used in appropriate circumstances to assist officers in the search for criminal suspects; the detection and location of narcotics and/or explosives; and the location of missing adults or juveniles.

Supervisors or officers at the scene of a police incident may request the assistance of a police dog and shall be responsible for determining if the dog is to be used. When a police dog is deployed, the dog handler shall be solely responsible for the control and direction of the dog.

Police dogs may be used:

* In the detection, control, and apprehension of a suspect when there is a reasonable suspicion of the suspect's involvement in criminal activity;
* In the search of buildings and large areas for suspects;
* In the investigation of a crime or possible crime;
* In searches for narcotics and/or narcotic paraphernalia;
* In searches for explosives and/or explosive devices;
* In criminal and non-criminal incidents to assist in the search for missing juveniles or adults.

Police dogs are employed to assist officers in the performance of their duties. In appropriate circumstances, police dogs may be used to defend peace officers and others from imminent danger at the hands of an assailant, and may defend themselves from annoying, harassing, or provoking acts.

584. VICE ENFORCEMENT.
The people through their elected representatives have decided that criminal sanctions should be imposed against certain behavior which has been traditionally labeled as "vice."

The Department is charged with the enforcement of all criminal statutes including those defining vice offenses. Where vice conditions are allowed to continue, they are soon exploited by organized crime and the money thus obtained is often used to finance other criminal ventures or attempts to corrupt public officials.

To prevent the spread of vice conditions, the Department will take aggressive enforcement action against all commercialized vice activities, against those vice activities which have been complained of, and against conspicuous vice conditions which appear on the streets and in the public places of the City.

588. NARCOTIC ENFORCEMENT.
It is the objective of the Department to enforce all local, State, and federal statutes which prohibit the possession, use, or traffic in narcotics, non-prescription dangerous drugs, and other restricted or prohibited substances. Through a combination of aggressive enforcement and public
588. (CONTINUED) education, the Department seeks to prevent and deter the use and possession of, and traffic in, all such substances within the City. In so doing, the Department may also conduct investigations outside the City in cooperation with appropriate law enforcement agencies to prevent the flow of such illegal substances into the City.

To prevent the spreading use of narcotics and other dangerous substances, the Department engages in public education programs to inform people about the effects and hazards of drug abuse. Additionally, the Department provides the public with factual information with which to make decisions regarding the use of drugs and to assist members of the public in recognizing symptoms and indications of drug use in others. An understanding and appreciation of the full effect and extent of drug abuse is essential for success in overcoming its threat. By working with and through the community, the Department seeks to engage the people in a cooperative attack on this critical problem.

A specific unit shall be dispatched “Code Three” and other available units in the vicinity shall respond “Code Two.” An “Officer Needs Help” call shall not be broadcast when “assistance” only is needed. * “Pursuit” Procedure. A unit announcing a “Pursuit” shall begin the message by stating that the unit is in “Pursuit” and giving the location followed, if possible, by the unit identification, description of pursued vehicle, and/or suspects, direction taken, and reason for pursuit. The pursuing unit shall give frequent and comprehensive progress reports as conditions permit. Any unit having information regarding the “Pursuit” may transmit. Communications Division will broadcast advisory information concerning pursuits by the CHP within the City. Department personnel shall not become involved in CHP pursuits on the freeways unless for serious felonies committed within the City of Los Angeles.
* Code One. When the control operator fails to receive an acknowledgment of a communication, a “Code One” shall be given. The unit to which a “Code One” is directed shall acknowledge immediately upon hearing a “Code One.”
* Code Two. A radio call accompanied by a “Code Two” designation is an urgent call and shall be answered immediately. The red light and siren shall not be used, and all traffic laws shall be observed. Officers responding to a “Code Two” radio call shall only be interrupted to perform police work of major importance or to respond to a higher priority radio call when so directed by a Communications Division operator or Department supervisor.

Note: The determination to interrupt an officer’s response to a Code Two call should be based upon the comparative urgency and the risk to life and property of the assigned call and the intervening incident. (1/516.20)
Officers shall notify and request the Communications Division operator to immediately reassign their Code Two call when circumstances cause them to be interrupted from responding to the call.
* Code Three. A radio call accompanied by a “Code Three” designation is an emergency call. It shall be answered immediately, but in a manner which will enable the unit to reach the scene as quickly as possible with safety. The red light and siren shall be used whenever it is necessary to disregard provisions of Division 11 of the Vehicle Code, “Rules of the Road.”

Any call may justify a “Code Three” if any of the following elements are present:

* A serious public hazard.
* The preservation of life.
* A crime of violence in progress.
* The prevention of a crime of violence.
* An immediate pursuit.
* A unit at the scene requests another unit “Code Three.”

The final decision for the use of “Code Three,” other than in response to a directed radio call, shall be made by the vehicle operator.

An officer shall immediately broadcast his intention to proceed “Code Three” when the decision is based on other than a directed police radio call. The “Code Three” broadcast shall include the nature and location of the activity and, when known, the starting point, route of travel, and destination.

When the “Code Three” has been terminated, the officer shall notify Communications Division as soon as practicable.

When more than one unit is “Code Three” in the same general area, they shall be notified by Communications Division that other units are “Code Three” in the vicinity.

* Code Four. When additional assistance is not needed at the scene of an “All Units” call, a “Code Four,” followed by the location of the call, shall be broadcast. Radio units which are not assigned to the call and which are not at the scene shall return to their assigned patrol area when a “Code Four” is broadcast.
* Code Four Adam. When additional assistance is not needed at the scene of an “All Units” call but the suspect is still in the vicinity, a “code Four Adam,” followed by the location of the call, shall be broadcast. This should then be followed by a description of the suspect. Radio units which are not assigned to the call but which are on the way to the scene shall, when a “Code Four Adam” is broadcast, patrol or post themselves at strategic locations near the scene.
* Code Five. A unit intending to “Stakeout” shall notify the control of the location and request a “Code Five.” The control operator, upon receipt of the message, shall immediately broadcast that there is a “Code Five” at the particular location. All units shall avoid the vicinity except in an emergency or in response to a call.* Clearing Code Five. When the need for a “Code Five” no longer exists, the originating unit, or the last unit to leave the scene, shall request the control to clear the “Code Five” at the particular location.
* Code Six. When a unit is conducting a field investigation and no assistance is anticipated, a “Code
Six,” followed by the location, shall be broadcast. A unit shall not go “Code Six” until it arrives at the scene of a call. Units on “Code Six” status shall remain available for reassignment to priority calls by monitoring their radio frequencies. A unit on “Code Six” status may indicate to the dispatcher additional circumstances which will make the unit unavailable for assignment to a priority call. These circumstances may include:

* Suspect in custody.
* Primary unit at a crime scene.
* Required at a back-up, assistance, or help location.

Note: The unit shall notify the dispatcher as soon as it is again available for radio calls.

* Code Six Adam. When an officer may need assistance in conducting an investigation, he should broadcast
“Code Six Adam” with his location.
Other radio units in the vicinity should then patrol in the general direction of the given location.
Officers should not ordinarily leave their assigned districts, but should deploy to an advantageous position in the event that assistance is later requested. When a unit broadcasts “Code Six Adam” and later finds that assistance will not be needed, a “Code Four” and the location shall be given without delay.

* Code Six Charles. When a one-officer unit receives a “Code Six Charles” in answer to a request for information on a suspect, the officer shall place himself or herself in a position of advantage over the suspect while awaiting arrival of assistance. When control is obtained,
the one-officer unit may request and receive the want/warrant information from the Radio Telephone Operator.

When a “Code Six Charles” is received by a two-officer unit, the officers shall immediately place themselves in positions of advantage over the suspect. When control is obtained, the unit shall request the want/warrant information from the Communications operator.

* Code Six George. When an officer may need assistance in conducting an investigation concerning possible gang activity, the officer should broadcast “Code Six George” and the location. An available “CRASH” or gang unit should respond, while other radio units in the vicinity should then patrol in the general direction of the location given. Officers should not ordinarily leave their assigned districts, but should deploy to an advantageous position in the event that assistance is later requested. When a unit broadcasts “Code Six George” and later finds that assistance will not be needed, a “Code Four” and the location shall be given without delay.

* Code Six Mary. When an officer may need assistance in conducting an investigation concerning possible militant activity, he should broadcast “Code Six Mary” with his location. Other radio units in the vicinity should then patrol in the general direction of the given location. Officers should not ordinarily leave their assigned districts, but should deploy to an advantageous position in the event that assistance is later requested. When a unit broadcasts “Code Six Mary” and later finds that assistance will not be needed, a “Code Four” and the location shall be given without delay.

* Code Seven. When a unit desires to go out of service for free time, a request for “Code Seven,” accompanied by the location his assigned vehicle will be parked, shall be transmitted to the control. The control operator shall instruct the unit to “Stand By” until it can be determined whether the request can be immediately granted. If the request cannot be granted, the control operator shall instruct the unit to “Continue Patrol.” If the request is granted, the control operator shall inform the unit “OK for Seven.”

* Code Eight. This call is broadcast for general information when a fire has been reported at a specific location where there is a high fire hazard or a threat of personal danger to firemen from hostile groups. Units in the vicinity should respond to the call but remain on the air available.

A specific police unit shall be assigned the call to assist with traffic or crowd control.

  * Determine that the frequency is not in use.
  * Identify himself with his unit number.
  * Request “Code Ten,” and state number of suspects to be checked.
  * Indicate whether suspects are juveniles.

Note: A “Code Ten” designation shall not be used to request a clear frequency for crime information broadcasts or any other information, except as specified above.

* Code Twelve. An officer who responds to a “Code Thirty,” “Code Thirty Adam,” “Code Thirty-Ringer,” or a 211 silent and determines that there is no evidence of a burglary or robbery, and it appears that the false alarm was caused by equipment malfunction or subscriber error, shall broadcast “Code Twelve,” the address, and firm name, if any.

Note: A “Code Twelve” shall be broadcast, in addition to any crime information, when a 211 silent alarm is used to summon the police for reasons other than a robbery.

* Code Twenty. When a traffic collision or other event being investigated is of such a spectacular nature or is sufficiently unusual that accounts of it would stimulate general public interest, the phrase “Code Twenty,” accompanied by the location of the accident or event, shall be transmitted to the control.

* Code Thirty. This call is broadcast for general information when a silent burglar alarm has been reported by an alarm company or by an automatic tape message. Units in the vicinity should respond to the call but remain available for calls unless it is necessary to go “Code Six” for the purpose of assistance or investigation.

* Code Thirty Adam. This call is broadcast when a silent burglar alarm has been reported by an alarm company and the location is being monitored audibly. Units in the vicinity should respond to the call but remain available for calls unless it is necessary to go “Code Six” for the purpose of assistance or investigation.

Note: If the location appears to be secure, officers shall ascertain, via Communications, whether the alarm company is monitoring any activity within the location.

* Code Thirty-Ringer. This call is broadcast when a Communications dispatcher receives information that a ringing burglar alarm has been activated. Units in the vicinity should respond to the call but remain available for calls unless it necessary to go “Code Six” for the purpose of assistance or investigation.

Note: Communications Division shall continue to broadcast “Code Six Charles” in cases of vehicle license numbers connected with high risk suspects or vehicles, such as armed and dangerous, felony warrant or warrant. For example, if a vehicle license number is associated with a stolen vehicle used in connection with an armed robbery, a “Code Six Charles” will be broadcast, NOT “Code Thirty-Seven.”

These suspects’ descriptions shall follow the sequence as outlined in the related crime report.

130. RADIO MESSAGE PRIORITY.
Emergency Radio Messages. This classification has priority over all other messages and consists of requests for “Help,” information regarding “Pursuits,” and messages necessary for the preservation of life.

Special Radio Messages. This classification has priority over “Routine” radio messages and consists of:
* Immediate field broadcasts of descriptions of suspects and/or vehicles involved in crimes when the time element is important.
* Reporting fires.

A unit with a “Special” message shall begin transmission by notifying the control operator that the unit has a “Special” message. The unit may precede the message with a request for a clear frequency for a “Special” message. When the concerned frequency is on “Stand By” for a “Special” message, only broadcasts regarding the “Special” message shall be transmitted, except an “Emergency” message or another “Special” message.

Note: Upon receiving a special message, the control operator shall immediately place the concerned frequencies on “Stand By,” when necessary, and handle the messages in the order of their priority. The control operator shall immediately clear concerned frequencies when the special message is completed.

Exception: When an officer desires a clear frequency to check a suspect for warrants and/or warrants, he shall request “Code Ten.”

The control operator, upon receipt of the request, shall advise all other units on the same frequency to “Stand By” and instruct the concerned unit to “Go Ahead.” Upon completion of the message, the control operator shall announce to all units that the frequency is clear. Units advised to “Stand By” shall not attempt to transmit unless their message is of higher priority than the message being transmitted (4/130).

Note: A clear frequency shall not be requested in order to obtain a “Want” or a “DMV” on a vehicle.

Incidents Motivated by Hatred or Prejudice—Defined. An incident motivated by hatred or prejudice is any malicious or offensive act directed against an individual or group based upon their race, religion, culture, disability, ethnic background, lifestyle, sexual orientation, and similar incidents against other groups that may be singled out for acts of hatred or prejudice. Incidents of this nature include criminal and non-criminal acts. Non-criminal acts include, but are not limited to, activity which would cause an individual, or members of such groups, to feel threatened or intimidated.

Note: A PIR shall be completed whenever an officer becomes aware of any incident, whether criminal or non-criminal, which meets the criteria of an incident motivated by hatred or prejudice.
The unwillingness of the victim of an incident motivated by hatred or prejudice to sign a report, or the absence of a victim to the incident, does not exempt officers from the requirement to complete a PIR of the incident.

Geographic Detective Division Responsibilities. Upon receipt of a crime report involving an incident motivated by hatred or prejudice, the assigned detective shall complete a Follow-Up Investigation, Form 3.14, within ten working days of the date assigned reporting the results of the investigation. If the investigation reveals that the incident was not in fact motivated by hatred or prejudice, the assigned investigator shall complete a Form 3.14 and enter "NOT MOTIVATED BY HATRED OR PREJUDICE" on the first line in the narrative portion of the report.

216. TAKING PERSONS INTO CUSTODY.

216.52 WEARING OF BODY ARMOR DURING TACTICAL OPERATIONS AND WARRANT SERVICE.

217.20 (CONTINUED)
Note: When an arrestee is booked at Sybil Brand Institute, non-prohibited drugs shall be placed in an envelope and returned to the arrestee’s personal property. The envelope shall be signed by the officer and shall include a description of the contents.

217.30 USE OF HANDCUFFS.
The primary purpose in handcuffing an arrestee is to maintain control of the arrestee and to minimize the possibility of escalating the situation to a point that would necessitate more drastic means of restraint.

Felon arrestees shall normally be handcuffed; however, there may be circumstances which would make the handcuffing of an arrestee inappropriate. Such circumstances can best be perceived by the involved officer. Therefore, any decision to not handcuff an arrestee must be based on available facts. Factors involved in making this decision include, but are not limited to:
- The possibility of the arrestee’s escaping.
- The possibility of escalating the incident.
- Potential threat to officers and other persons.
- Knowledge of the arrestee’s previous encounters with law enforcement.

An officer shall constantly monitor the actions of an unhandcuffed arrestee. If the officer believes it is necessary, he may, at any time, handcuff the arrestee.

A shotgun shall not be carried in a police vehicle with a round of ammunition in the chamber.

BOOKING, CUSTODY, AND DISPOSITION OF PROPERTY

505. PROPERTY CLASSIFICATIONS.

505.10 CLASSIFICATIONS OF PROPERTY.
Items entered into the Department property system shall be classified as follows:

* Evidence—items which are or may be related to a crime, or which may either implicate or exonerate a person.

* Excess Personal Property—non-evidentiary personal property of an arrestee which cannot be packaged in a prisoner's property package or purse.

* Non-evidence—property other than evidence or excess personal property.

505.15 CLASSIFICATIONS OF ANALYZED EVIDENCE.
Evidence booked into the Department's property system shall be classified as follows:

* Analyzed Evidence-Shelf Storage—evidence, other than narcotics, that does not require cold storage.
* Analyzed Evidence-To Be Refrigerated—whole blood, urine, saliva, etc.
* Analyzed Evidence-To Be Frozen—biological evidence (dried blood/semen, swabs/slides/aspirates, etc.).
* Analyzed Evidence—narcotics.

505.20 RECLASSIFICATION OF NON-EVIDENCE.
Non-evidence may be reclassified to evidence by completion of a Follow-up Report, Form 3.14.

Note: Additional property may not be booked on a Follow-up Report, Form 3.14.
510. BOOKING PROCEDURE.

510.10 BOOKING EVIDENCE AND NON-EVIDENCE—GENERAL.
The employee seizing or taking custody of evidence shall ensure it is properly booked without unnecessary delay.

All property which is to be booked shall be inventoried and listed on the Property Report, Form 10.1. The employee seizing or taking custody of a closed container shall open the container prior to booking and conduct an inventory search if its contents cannot be determined from examining its exterior. Evidence may only be booked by a sworn employee, a Police Service Representative in the course of his official duties or a civilian employee conducting specialized investigative work. Responsibility for booking evidence may be assumed by the detective or the civilian investigative specialist at the scene.

Employees shall book only the quantities of evidence necessary for case prosecution. In instances when the rightful ownership of property can be readily determined, and case prosecution will not be jeopardized, the property shall be returned to the owner. When appropriate, employees shall utilize photographs in lieu of actual evidence.

Note: If there is a question as to whether or not photographs will suffice in lieu of actual evidence items, the booking employee should seek the advice of a supervisor or the concerned detective.

Non-evidence shall not be booked into a Department storage facility unless circumstances necessitate booking of the property.

The employee seizing or taking custody of property shall issue a Receipt for Property Taken into Custody, Form 10.10 (duplicate copy), to the person relieved of the property (4/645.20 and 5/10.10). The original of the Form 10.10 shall be included as a page of the original Property Report, Form 10.1; Notice to Appear/Release From Custody Report, Form 5.2.8; or Arrest Report, Form 5.2, when evidence to be booked is listed.

Evidence and non-evidence shall not be stored in the personal possession of any employee, except certain forgery-related evidence (4/570.20).
One copy of the Property Report, Form 10.1, or Notice to Appear/Release, Form 5.2.8; or Arrest face sheet, Form 5.2, shall accompany the property when booked.

Exception: Two copies shall accompany narcotics or firearm bookings, or blood or urine bookings within Operations-Valley Bureau.

It is not necessary to issue the Form 10.10 for blood and urine samples or biological smear specimens taken, from an arrestee or the victim of a crime, nor is it necessary to include these items on a Form 10.10 used to list other property taken from an arrestee or victim.

When the finding of non-evidence is reported and the finder refuses to relinquish custody of the property to the Department, the interviewing employee shall complete a Property Report, Form 10.1, and make a notation on the report that the property is in the possession of the finder.
Note: The assigned detectives (4/790.) shall ensure that the finder has complied with laws governing found property (Civil Code 1020.1, 2080.3; Penal Code 177 and 485).

The employee booking property shall, if circumstances permit, check identifiable property against the Automated Property System and provide information regarding any reported stolen property in the reports. The booking employee shall notify each detective division handling a case involving the booked property by completing the “Extra Copy To” portion of the reports to ensure notification and report distribution to each detective division.

Investigative officers within the booking employee’s Area should confer with any other entity handling a case involving the booked property to determine responsibility for disposition of the property.

Note: Booking employees shall continue to check all firearms against the Automated Firearms System (4/540.30) and attach a copy of the printout to the appropriate report.

510.12 BOOKING ANALYZED EVIDENCE—GENERAL.
An employee receiving evidence requiring analysis shall:

* Record appropriate information on all required envelopes or tags;
510.12 (CONTINUED)
* Place the evidence in the correct classification of Laboratory and Analyzed Evidence Envelope, or tag correctly;

* Seal the Analyzed Evidence Envelope with a completed Analyzed Evidence Seal on both flaps of the required evidence envelope; and,
* Book the evidence within the Department property system (4/513.30).

Note: Analyzed evidence requiring freezer storage shall be booked at Central Property Division no later than six (6) hours after it is obtained.

525. PRESERVING PROPERTY.

525.10 PRESERVING PROPERTY—GENERAL.
All property shall be protected from contamination, alteration, destruction, and damage. Employees taking custody of property which they do not know how to preserve shall obtain assistance from Scientific Investigation Division.

FOLLOW-UP INVESTIGATION

702. DETECTIVE’S CASE ENVELOPE—FELONY ARRESTEES.
The assigned investigator shall ensure that:

* A separate Detective’s Case Envelope, Form 15.15, is utilized for each adult felony arrestee.

Exceptions: Investigations requiring use of a case package larger than the 15.15, or a Murder Book (4/710.30).

* A copy of all related reports is filed in the package.
* Applicable information is entered on the face of the envelope as it becomes available.
* The completed case package is submitted to a supervisor for approval as soon as practicable after the Investigator’s Final Report, Form 5.10, is approved and returned to the investigator.

After Approval, completed case packages are to be filed as directed by the division commanding officer.
709. DEATHS.

709.10 DEATH INVESTIGATION—FOLLOW-UP PROCEDURES.

Natural, Accidental, and Suicide Deaths. Death investigations which reflect a supported classification of "natural," "accidental," or "suicide" shall not routinely require a Follow-up Report, Form 3.14.

Exception: A Follow-up Report shall be completed as soon as practical when:

* The facts articulated in the initial Death Investigation Report, Form 3.11, do not support the classification; OR,
* Subsequent information significantly alters the original classification; OR,
* The postmortem examination contradicts the classification and cause of death reported on the Death Investigation Report.

Traffic Related Deaths. When a death results from a traffic collision, the investigating officer shall complete a Traffic Collision Status Report, Form 4.16, within 60 days following the initial Death investigation Report. The report shall indicate:

* The postmortem examination results, and final classification of death; OR,
* That the investigation is continuing and the reason for its continuance.

Undetermined Deaths. The detective responsible for the follow-up investigation of a death classified as "undetermined" shall, as soon as possible but no later than 60 day after the initial Death Investigation Report, complete a Follow-up Report indicating:

* The postmortem examination results, and the final classification and cause of death; OR,
* That the postmortem examination is continuing and a statement as to why the examination and/or the investigation has not been concluded.

Note: When the postmortem examination results cannot be obtained, the detective shall complete an additional Follow-up Report during each subsequent 90 day period, until the final classification or cause of death can be established. If either the classification or cause of death cannot be determined, the detective shall complete a Follow-up Report indicating the available results and the reason why a final determination by the Coroner is not possible.
710. HOMICIDES.

710.10 TELEPHONIC NOTIFICATIONS.
A telephonic notification reporting the occurrence of a homicide shall be made by the homicide investigating officer as soon as practical after his preliminary investigation to the concerned operations bureau office and the Administrative Information Unit, Detective Headquarters Division. * Cause of death.
* Motive for homicide (if known).
* Area of occurrence.
* Potential for additional problems.
* Name of reporting officer.

710.20 HOMICIDE STATUS REPORTS.

Unsolved Homicides. A progress report on an unsolved homicide shall be submitted by detectives to their commanding officer, within 60 days of case assignment. The report is in lieu of a Follow-up Report, Form 3.14. It shall be on plain white paper and distributed as follows:

* Original and addenda to the assigned detective.
* One copy to the detective supervisor.
* One copy and addenda to the concerned operations bureau.
* One copy to Robbery-Homicide Division.

A follow-up report shall be completed:

* As soon as possible, when additional information consists of new evidence affecting the cause of death or when the status of the Death Investigation Report, Form 3.11, is changed.
* When any significant subsequent information is reported during the unsolved status of the homicide after an initial homicide progress report has been submitted.
* At the end of six months and at the end of one year from the date of the crime on all unsolved homicides.
* After the first year as additional information becomes available.

Solved Homicides. When a homicide case is solved, the investigating officer shall submit a Follow-up Report, Form 3.14, containing the following information:

* Suspect(s)—Defendant(s).
* Investigative information positively identifying the suspect(s).
* M.O. used by the suspect(s).
* Criminal charges filed and/or warrant information.
* Postmortem examination information—cause of death.

Crimes or Incidents Reclassified as Criminal Homicides. When a reported crime or incident is reclassified as a criminal homicide, the assigned detective shall:*
Complete a Preliminary Investigation Report (PIR), Form 3.1, for “Murder” when the incident was originally reported on a Death Investigation Report, Form 3.11; Injury Report, Form 3.15; or Missing Person Investigation Report, Form 3.16; OR,

* Submit a Follow-up Report, Form 3.14, reclassifying the original PIR to “Murder” along with the fact sheet of the original PIR; AND,* Prepare a Death Investigation Report, if not previously completed.
* If the original report was a Death Investigation Report, the classification shall be changed to “homicide.”

All reports shall contain the DR number of the original crime or incident.

Exception: If the original crime has been cleared before the death of the victim occurs, or if the death occurred in a calendar year other than that in which the original report was completed, the subsequent Death Investigation Report, Follow-up Report, and/or Preliminary Investigation Report shall be assigned a new DR number.

710.30 MURDER BOOK.
Murder Books shall be used exclusively for homicide investigations.

The Forms 3.11.1 through 3.11.7 (5/3.11.1) are to be maintained in the Murder Book when used in a homicide investigation. When the forms are used in other than a homicide investigation, they are to be maintained in the appropriate case folder.

* Provide the person reporting a Department of Justice (DOJ) Dental/Skeletal Release Form, SS-8567; or in the case of a missing juvenile, a DOJ Dental/Skeletal Photograph and Description Release Form (reverse side of SS-8567); and comply with procedures A-C.

Note: The California Penal Code requires law enforcement agencies to take missing persons reports (Form 3.16) telephonically. However, this should not be done routinely. The reporting person should be requested to make the report at the nearest law enforcement facility unless the reporting person is unable, i.e., disabled.

Exception: With the approval of the Area Juvenile Coordinator, a missing persons report may be taken telephonically when it involves a chronic juvenile runaway or extenuating circumstances are present which would create a severe hardship for the parent or guardian attempting to complete the report.

When the Area Juvenile Coordinator is unavailable, approval for completion of the telephonic report shall be obtained from the concerned Juvenile Coordinator's immediate supervisor.

When neither the Area Juvenile Coordinator nor the immediate supervisor is available, approval to complete the telephonic report shall be obtained from the concerned Area patrol division watch commander.

The Missing/Found Person Telephone Report, Form 3.16.2, shall only be used by investigative personnel as an interim report while the Missing/Found Persons Investigation, Form 3.16, is being processed.

Resident of Los Angeles. If the missing person (juvenile or adult) is a City of Los Angeles resident and was last seen outside the City, the employee completing the Missing/Found Persons Investigation, Form 3.16, shall immediately notify the outside agency having jurisdiction of the location where the person was last seen and record the name of the person and agency notified in the narrative portion of the report.
Notwithstanding other provisions set forth in this Order, the employee entering any missing person information into NCIC shall record the NCIC nine digit entry verification number in the "NCIC #" box on the revised Form 3.16.

Non-Resident of Los Angeles.
When any non-resident of the City of Los Angeles is reported missing, the employee conducting the preliminary investigation shall complete a Missing/Found Persons Investigation, Form 3.16, without delay and immediately notify and forward a copy of the report to the outside agency having jurisdiction over the person’s residence address and, if applicable, the jurisdiction where the missing person was last seen. The employee shall record the name of each person and agency notified in the narrative portion of the report.

* Request advice from the Missing Persons Detail, Detective Headquarters Division;
* Complete a Found/Missing Persons Investigation, Form 3.16; and
* Ensure that the disposition of the individual is noted in the narrative of the report.

Investigating Officer—Responsibilities.
An officer receiving a Found/Unidentified Persons Report shall, in addition to established Procedures, ensure that the appropriate information is entered into the Unidentified Person File, NCIC.

Note: NCIC routinely completes a cross-search between the Unidentified Persons File and the Missing Persons File in an effort to locate missing persons.

733. INFORMANTS.

733.10 INFORMANTS—OFFICERS’ RESPONSIBILITY.
All officers shall disclose to their commanding officers the identities of informants from whom the officers are receiving information.

Whenever practicable, an officer shall telephonically check the Undesirable Informant File, which is accessible during normal business hours, when:
* He intends to conduct an investigation based on information supplied by:
* An untested informant, OR
* A formerly reliable informant with whom the officer has had no contact for a period of at least three months.
* He believes that an informant may be supplying information to another investigative unit within the Department.

Investigating officers shall not conduct investigations based solely upon information supplied by an informant whose name appears in the Undesirable Informant File without approval of a staff officer.

When the magnitude of an investigation necessitates the possible use of a known undesirable informant, the investigating officer's commanding officer shall be advised and shall contact his immediate superior at the staff level. The concerned staff officer shall ensure that a thorough investigation into the undesirable informant's background is conducted and shall be responsible for evaluating the results of the investigation and deciding whether to act upon information supplied by a known undesirable informant.

733.20 UNDESIRABLE INFORMANT FILE.
The commanding officer of each Area or each specialized investigative division shall, when an informant proves himself to be undesirable, forward a completed Form 5.10, including details of the informant's undesirability, to the Office of Special Services. The words "Undesirable Informant" shall be placed in the left margin.

The Office of Special Services shall be responsible for maintaining the Department-wide Undesirable Informant File.

Criteria for classifying an informant as undesirable shall include, but not be limited to:
* Acting in anyway which would endanger the life of an officer, OR
* Revealing the identity of any officer or the existence of an investigation to suspects during an investigation, OR
* Attempting to use the Department to further his own criminal objectives, OR
* Alienating one police agency against another by giving false or misleading information to either or both agencies.
Note: The mere unreliability of an informant shall not necessarily qualify him for inclusion in the Undesirable Informant File.

The Director, Office of Special Services, shall make the final determination as to the names of informants placed in the Undesirable Informant File.

Whenever an officer queries the Undesirable Informant File and there is an entry under the informant’s name, the Office of Special Services shall record the following information on the appropriate Office of Special Services forms:

* The name and assignment of the officer requesting information;
* The type of investigation;

An impounded vehicle shall not be held for investigation longer than two business days.

Exception: The supervisor (Detective II or higher) of the investigator responsible for the release may authorize an extension when specific circumstances warrant.
